Start drive for old and broken victrola records

Success will mean entertainment for men in service

Those who possess records in good shape that were made by old masters are asked to wrap and mark them carefully. They can not be reproduced.

Preparations for The American Legion's old phonograph record salvage drive, which began July 17 and extends through August 2, gained new momentum this week with the formation of committees for the direction of canvassing, collection, and promotional activities.

Purpose of the campaign is to collect a quota of 10,000 records in this community as a part of the nationwide campaign for 37,500,000 records. These records will be collected by The American Legion and sold for their scrap value by Records For Our Fighting Men, Inc., a non-profit organization of famous musical artists. Proceeds will be used to purchase new records and phonograph players for every American Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Corps, and Coast Guard camp, base, post and station throughout the world.

Post Commander D. R. Rippey, Director of the local campaign, announced the selection of Jos. Wiskersky, Jas. E. Millay, as the Legion committee in charge of the drive. Headquarters for the drive are at American Legion Home.

The following business houses have agreed to act as receiving stations: Arlington Heights police station, The Big Freeze, Green's ice cream parlor, Heidorn's Sweet Shop, Warson's Beauty Parlor, Foley's Beauty Shoppe, Ida Graft's Beauty Salon, Arlington Theatre, Sieburg's drug store, Lohr's drug store.

Those who have packages too large for personal delivery, can call Jos. Wiskersky, phone 604, or Jas. E. Millay, phone 325-W, and a representative of the legion will call for them.

Fast mail service to South America for boys in service

Corp. A. E. Pedersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Pedersen, 514 S. State road, Arlington Heights, has found that Uncle Sam provides exceedingly fast mail service for boys in service on the west coast to South America. July 9, he replied to a letter that his mother had written on July 2. Copies of the Arlington Heights Herald are also making quick time.

Corp. Pedersen tells of his recreation, which is divided between playing pinochle at five pesos for a 1200 game, and playing tennis. Writing about an exhibition game of kitten baseball, he says, "Our side lost 16 to 11. Most of the English and American people turned out for the game. There were even cheerleaders for both sides. A good many of the English people never saw a ball game before. They got quite a kick out of it. We changed positions every inning to give every player an opportunity to play. I finished the game by pitching the last inning for our side. Managed to make it no runs, no hits, no errors."

New variety of white currants developed by Klehm

George Klehm, veteran nurseryman of Arlington Heights, this week offered samples of a new variety of white currants developed by him. He's the only man in America to raise currants of this type. Having about five thousand plants, Mr. Klehm plans to sell some of them this fall. This white currant is not as acid as the red grape and is not nearly as large as Mr. Klehm's variety.

Mr. Klehm is a nurseryman of long standing in Arlington, having formerly owned the land which is now Scarsdale. He is particularly well known for having developed the Moline Elm.

Classified ads are fast workers, say two

D. B. Gould, Itasca, says, "I have been told that a classified ad. in the Paddock Publications does an efficient job, but I was surprised last week by the speed at which they work. I advertised a power lawn mower for $75. Twelve hours before the DuPage Register reached the Itasca postoffice, a reader of the Mt. Prospect Herald, issued Thursday afternoon, had bought the mower."

Such speed is not unusual for Paddock want ads. Often subscribers who receive the Friday editions, make a special trip to the publication office Thursday morning to get a copy of the first edition and "get first chance" at goods advertised. All classified ads. appear in six newspapers for a single price.

24 replies to garage ad. Mrs. John Wente, Palatine, reports that she received 24 replies to her ad. offering for sale a three car garage.

First Palatine war victim

JACK THOMPSON, Palatine, who was killed in a bomber crash at Trinidad, July 12.

"Mine was the privilege of knowing Jack less than two years, but in that time he proved himself a Christian gentleman and a sincere friend. Immanuel congregation has lost one of its future leaders."

W. C. Koester, Pastor.

"I have never known one who could match his bravery and courage. We will always be proud of him. He was my best friend."

Li. Stuart R. Paddock, Jr.

Ensign Thompson, Palatine boy, dies in Trinidad crash

Ensign John T. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Thompson, Palatine was killed Sunday, July 12, in the bay at Trinidad when a large bomber crashed. Nine others in the bomber met their death at the same time. Two of the twelve occupants sustained serious injuries.

Word of the accident was received in Palatine Thursday morning through a telegram from the government.

The funeral was held Thursday and interment at Fort Reed cemetery, where remains will rest until after the dedication.

The bomber had started out when mechanical trouble developed necessitating a return to its base. When landing on the water the ship turned over, drowning ten of the twelve men.

No official report of the accident has been received by the Thompsons, but they have received, thru private sources, a copy of a report given by the officer in charge to Walter Giles, whose twin brother was lost on the same ship. This report was forwarded by Walter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwar Giles, 7642 So. Wabash ave., Chicago. The twin brother is on his way home and with his mother, the widowed bride and the surviving brother, expect to visit Palatine next week.

The Thompsons have also received word from parents of a third boy who was killed in the accident.

John T. Thompson, familiarly called Jack by his friends, was born in Jalatine July 23, 1915, graduated from the Palatine high school in 1933. After one year at Northwestern university he remained a year in Palatine, handling the Chicago newspaper route, which he owned several years, returning later to Northwestern.

Entering private employment in January, 1941, Jack was with Braun Bros. oils and enlisted in the navy reserve April 4, 1941. Training occurred at Glenview, followed at Jacksonville and then Pensacola, where he received his wings March 9, 1942.

Jack came home for a short visit and then departed from the east, joined a patrol squadron at Trinidad.

There remain, his parents and one brother, Don.

Former Arlington physician comes back from India

War cuts short his missionary work after six years

Dr. and Mrs. Leckband and their four children arrived in Arlington Heights last Thursday after an uneventful but apprehensive trip from India to United States. They are visiting at the Oscar Heinrich home.

The Leckband family numbered five when they left for their charge in Sept., 1936. Number six is Richard, a two year old son. The other children are: Joan 12, Norbert Jr. 8, Garwood, 7.

Dr. Leckband can not answer questions pertaining to military matters, but can tell a lot about internal conditions in India. Following the April Japanese attack the American Consul advised all Americans to leave for home. Dr. Leckband felt that his duty to his family necessitated their immediate return to America and he was unwilling to have them undertake the perilous journey without being with them.

Except for the war, he would have probably remained in India another two years. Dr. Leckband has not yet made any definite plans, except that he is ready to do whatever will give his country the greatest service, either in the armed forces or relieving some other doctor who has been called for duty.

Dr. Leckband practised in Arlington Heights several years, leaving in 1936 when Dr. Schimmel succeeded to his practice and he answered the call of the foreign mission board of the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran church.

The Leckbands have been stationed at Ambur, India, where the doctor had charge of a hospital and was assisted by Mrs. Leckband.

Palatine to dedicate fire station Sunday

Sunday at 2 p. m. the new Palatine fire station on Slade street will be dedicated and turned over to the village by the Palatine fire department.

There will be open house all day so that the public can inspect the new station and see what a fine building the boys have completed after their years of work toward securing an adequate home for themselves and a fire station which will be a credit to the community.

The dedicatory address will be given by John E. Mersch, chief of the Evanston fire department and president of the Illinois firemen's association.

Wm. Busse, veteran county commissioner, and Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, will also speak briefly congratulating Palatine and the firemen on their fine work. The dedication is being held as a part of the annual firemen's fall festival which is now in progress and which will end Sunday night.

The firemen extend a cordial invitation to the public to come out to the dedication, look over the building and then enjoy the fun at the festival grounds after the dedication.

Thank you, folks

Merle Guild Post of the American Legion expresses its appreciation to those who aided them in their recent carnival and to the general public, the loyal citizens, friends and neighbors who can always be depended upon to back up the Legion and all that it stands for.

We tried to give Arlington Heights something different. In contrast to the usual capital auto prize, we offered big prizes to attract outstanding drum and bugle corps here. This feature cost a lot of money, but it is part of the community service we give to our community. If you liked our show tell us about it. We hope to make it bigger next year.

HERMAN BAUMAN, Chairman.

Twilight Golf league's dance this Saturday

The Twilight Leagues dance will be held this Saturday, July 25. Earl Friedrichs seven piece band will furnish the music until the wee small hours. Make up your own party and tables can be arranged. Tickets are $1.00 per couple plus 10c tax. See any league member or you may pay at the door. War stamps will be given for door prizes.

Mrs. Homer J. Byrd, Mrs. Robert Sculthuis, Mrs. Donald Thompson selling bonds and stamps to the Mutual employees of the Arlington Park Jockey Club on Saturday, July 18.

Three such booths are staffed daily by workers from Arlington Heights and neighboring communities. Mr. Nicholas M. Laitol, chairman, and Mrs. G. Rex Volz, co-chairman, report that the total sale of bonds and stamps at the Arlington Park Jockey Club during the first four weeks amounted to $175,000, or a daily average of over $7,200.

Communities receive credit toward their quotas on the basis of post office addresses given on bonds purchased. On this basis more than half of the bonds sold at the Jockey Club will go toward the quota of Arlington Heights.

OCD asks women to save tin cans

Housewives, save your tin cans! This order has recently come from the War Production Board, and every one is urged to cooperate. The local collection of cans will be handled by the Salvage Committee of the Arlington Heights office of Civilian Defense. However no tin is to be turned in until Collection Day when it will all be gathered at once. Before the war, almost ninety per cent of the nation's tin supply came from countries now in the hands of the enemy. A quota has been set of one ton of cans for each 1,000 population.

The following are the instructions given for "preparing" the cans: (1) when empty, wash the cans and remove the labels. (2) open both top and bottom of the cans and tuck them inside. (3) flatten them by stepping on them, but leave enough space so they can be seen through. Do not hammer them. (4) Keep them separate from trash until collection day. No paint, oil, varnish, floor polish, or cone shaped cans are worth saving. Condensed or evaporated milk cans are not worth saving, but coffee cans and others with painted on labels are wanted.

Paul Carroll heads 9th dist. drive for old, broken records

Paul Carroll, junior vice commander of the 9th district of the American Legion is in charge of the campaign for old and broken phonograph records of the entire district, comprising 20 posts and a membership of 4,500. The old records will make possible the manufacture of two and a half million new records for use by men in service.

"It is rather a big job to interest the thousands of homes within the district," states Mr. Carroll, "but as the public becomes aware of the purpose of the drive, I expect the ninth district will again be one of the leaders in the northern part of the state."

Tax time here soon

The second installment of the 1941 taxes will be due in August. The town collectors will open their offices early in the month and will receive the second installment of the 1941 taxes until probably Saturday, August 22, after which time payments will have to be made at the county building in Chicago.

Penalty date for the second installment is Sept. 1. The town collectors are again asking the fine cooperation of their local people in making their payments to the home collectors. Cards notifying all taxpayers as to the definite dates and hours of collection will be mailed out about August 1, by the town collectors.

Service relief nets $900 as mutuels top jockeys

Learns a lot by visit to USO center

Two weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Max Warson and Mrs. Harry Van Deusen of Arlington Heights, visited the U.S.O. center in Chicago. Mrs. Van Deusen, the co-chairman of the local U.S.O. drive, went to gather information about the activities and benefits of this organization.

The night they went was county-town night and an unusually active one at the center located on the second floor of the building at the corner of Adams and Wabash in Chicago. Mr. Farr, one of the officials of the Chicago center, gave Mrs. Van Deusen some interesting details about the running of this organization.

Once a week a dance is held with an orchestra providing the music. No girl is permitted on the floor unless she is sponsored by some reputable group such as the YWCA or a church group. Besides the dance there are always available ping pong tables, checkers boards, and a net for practicing golf shots.

There is a snack bar serving sandwiches, man-sized pieces of cake, cokes, and coffee, for a nickel per item. In the beautifully decorated lounge there are comfortable chairs and davenport before which are coffee tables covered with magazines and a large box of cookies. A check room is available where boys may check their bagging during their stay in Chicago. One of the most popular features of the U.S.O., a quiet corner of the room where a recording device is available for all those who wish to make records to send home. This, too, is free.

If a boy is willing to spend something for his room, he is given a check from the U.S.O. and can go to the Palmer House or other big loop hotel and get a five dollar room for a dollar. According to Mrs. Van Deusen, the whole atmosphere at the center is like that of a fine club.

The following is an excerpt from a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Friberg of Arlington Heights from Mr. Friberg's brother, Private W. L. Friberg, "somewhere" in the United States Army: "The article you sent in regard to the U.S.O. does not do justice to the institute. This organization does some great things for the boys in service and without it there wouldn't be any place to go down here. I only live about a half mile from there I can take more advantage of their facilities. Every Wednesday night they play bingo."

"On Friday nights they hold a regular weekly dance and these are the affairs that draw the crowd. The orchestra is usually some unit, but they sure play music the way you want it. On Sunday nights they have free movies and I should say that they are the choice selections."

"In addition to the above services the U.S.O. also maintains about ten ping pong tables and a game room. Aside from these are the lounge, and the library and reading rooms. I think I can safely say that the personnel of the U.S.O. is doing a swell job in catering to the boys in service and they in turn have gained the respect of all of us."

Because of the great need of additional funds the drive for contributions to the U.S.O. is being kept open until the 31st of July. Remember, says the local committee, "you help some one you know when you give to the U.S.O."

Drink hearty; water is o.k.

Water from Arlington Heights new well is O. K. Due to the possibility of the presence of methane gas, which was in evidence a month ago, the state water survey has taken additional samples and has given the well a clean bill of health. Quoting from the report presented to the village board Monday evening, "there is no conceivable hazard from its use."

Methane gas is diminishing with each additional analysis. The slight odor that can sometimes be detected is from hydrogen sulfide. A sample for purity will be forwarded to Springfield the first of every month.

The suggestion has been made that following the close of the racing season, a systematic flushing of the entire water system be made. The present demand for water is so heavy that it would not be safe to do the work at this time.

Except for the payment of bills, there was little reason for a village board meeting Monday night and the members after talking the hour away adjourned. Trustee Kehe said, "why not a vacation for the aldermen?"

Alert Notice!

The question of the type of signals to be used for air raid mobilization tests was definitely settled for the immediate future Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Civilian Defense Council.

Until further notice two aerial bombs will mean that the Yellow Signal is on. A single bomb following this a few minutes later will mean that the Blue Signal is on. The siren, sounding with a warbling or varying note, will indicate the Red Signal. The steady sounding of the siren means All Clear.

These will be used for practice mobilizations.

Police-truckers showdown before Judge Behrens

Trucking companies who are using defense shipments as an excuse to violate all state restrictions on over-loads and truck lengths will be watching with interest the outcome of a trial before Judge Behrens at Arlington Heights Saturday afternoon.

A Cleveland, Ohio firm is the defendant. The state police and highway department will have attorneys present to prosecute. Whoever wins, the highways of Illinois are taking a terrific pounding by huge shipments endangering the lives and property of civilians.

It all started by the refusal of Judge Behrens and state police to pass trucks that are violating not only the regular state weight law, but also the excess loads permissible for trucks hauling defense materials.

Trucking companies figuratively foam at the mouth as they tell Judge Behrens what he must do. Backed by machinery of the state police, the judge refuses to budge an inch.

Loads comprising defense shipments have little trouble, but it is when the trucking firms exceed load limits with civilian goods with one or two pieces of defense materials as an excuse, is where the fun and excitement begins.

Judge Behrens refers all doubtful cases by radio to the state police office at Springfield. The state advises him to sit tight and he does. To prevent one truck from being moved, two state police officers sat on it all night.

The trial with a battery of lawyers will start at two o'clock Saturday afternoon at the municipal building, Arlington Heights.

Every ton of overweight carried means that much more money for the shipping firms.

Kiwanis club to sponsor send-off for July 25 draftees

Arlington Heights Kiwanis club is sponsoring the send-off that will be given the boys who are departing for army service Saturday morning. From selective service board No. 1, Arlington Heights. Members of their families and others who are interested should be at the headquarters by 6:30 a. m. The boys will leave on the 7:24 train.

Rev. Kampenkel, of St. John church will give a short talk. Doughnuts, coffee and rolls will be served to those leaving for service. The breakfasts that are served each group when they report at headquarters, is partly made possible by the donations of rolls and doughnuts by Eleanor bake shop and cream by Duntzman Dairy.

The Drum and Bugle Corps members of the American Legion and V. F. W. with their colors, will head the parade to the station.

THREE ADDED TO JULY 25th DRAFT CALL

Three additional names were added this week by Selective Service Board No. 1, to the list of those who have been called to report for army service July 25th. They are:

Robert Louis La Salle, Arlington Park Race Track.
Alfred Kane, Arlington Park Race Track.
Emmett John Altenberg, 126 Raymond ave., Barrington.

This week's issue

These publications appear in the second section of this issue. Any subscriber who is interested in reading an official publication not appearing in his particular edition received by him can receive the edition desired by calling or writing to the publication office.

Jockey club society swells crowd and bids $110 for ball

Army relief benefited by nearly a thousand dollars in a twilight ball game at Recreation Park, Arlington Heights Monday evening. Jockey club society were present and opened its pocketbook. Receipts were swelled by the paper money that was dropped into the hat. At the close of the game, the ball used was auctioned and bid in by Mrs. Lindheimer, wife of an official of the Arlington Park Jockey club, for $65. She returned the ball and at the second auction it brought $45.

It wasn't a world series ball game, but from the size of the crowd, the noise, the enthusiasm and the battling spirit of the contesting teams and their supporters, anyone might well have thought it was.

It was a game between the Arlington Park mutuel clerks, resident in their red shirts, and the Arlington Park jockeys in their nifty blue outfits.

And the way those fellows went at it you'd have thought a world title depended upon the result.

The Jockeys were strengthened by a few fellows who were called gentlemen riders from Arizona and the West Coast by the announcer but were recognized by some of the fans as plain ringers from Park Ridge. In the ranks of the mutuel boys line up were a lot of partly old timers who showed they knew what base ball was all about and if you could drop back 20 years or so you'd have seen those names in the line up of many a big league and semi-pro outfit.

And the whole scene was for the benefit of the Army-Navy Relief. The handsome sum of over $900 was raised through the contribution of fans and the auctioning off of 2 balls autographed by the jockeys.

The largest crowd to see a ball game in many a day in Arlington Heights was present, local fans being augmented by the families of the racing folk and the officials of the track and their families.

The appearance of those "gentlemen riders" in the jockey line up was the occasion for a lot of razzing from the followers of the mutuel boys, and both teams went into the scrap with blood in their eyes and managers of the racing folk and the officials of the track and their families.

Once under way the jockeys jumped into the lead and for several innings held a 3-0 lead.

Then the mutuel clerks staged a rally taking advantage of several passes by the jockeys' gentlemen riders' pitcher and a sizzling hit by their own pitcher, Ray Hies, coach of the Arlington high school team.

Going into the last inning the score was tied at 3-3, and then the mutuel clerks staged some strategy that showed where they grew up in base ball.

With two out and a man on base the "gentlemen riders" came to bat. The mutuels went into a huddle and Hayes passed two of the "unknown" filling the bases.

There were two out, the scored tied, three men on the bases and up came Jockey Neves, the riding hero of Arlington Park.

Pandemonium broke loose with the jockeys' friends begging Neves to bring "em home" and the mutuel fans employing Hayes to "strike him out."

And in this crucial spot with the heat on and the crowd in an uproar the mighty Neves emulated the historic "Casey at the bat" and fanned the air.

Pitcher Hayes, who in everyday life coaches the Arlington Heights high school team and spends his vacations at the track mutuels each summer, had demonstrated he can play ball as well as tell others how to do it.

Thus ended the jockeys' dream of victory for in the last half of the final inning the mutuel clerks broke through for a run that won a hard fought uphill game.

Immediately after the game Andy Frain's ushers challenged the winners and the challenge was accepted and the game will be played next Monday evening.

The enthusiasm and the size of the crowd which attended the Monday night game was a surprise to everyone and people were there from all over the country as could be seen by the license plates of cars parked for blocks around the park.

Everyone was highly pleased with the game and the fine response of the public to a worthy cause.

Two boys in hospital with broken legs; hit by autoist

Donald and Joseph Mattes, sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mattes, 1336 Kensington rd., Arlington Heights, are in the Elmhurst hospital with broken right legs.

Donald has a fracture near the knee and Joseph a broken leg. Both were rather banged up when they were hit about 10:00 Saturday night by a car being driven by Elmer Wolf, 124 S. Walnut ave., Arlington Heights.

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 19.
The Golden Text was, "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself" (John 5:26).
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For the life was manifested and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us" (1 John 1:2).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is divine Principle, Mind, Soul, Spirit. Life is without beginning, and without end, Eternity, not time, and expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. . . Life is divine Mind. Life is not limited. Death and finiteness are unknown to Life. If Life ever had a beginning, it would also have an ending" (P. 468, 469).

Henry Morgenthau Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, today made public the official War Bond Quotas by States for the month of July, which places the nation on a Billion-dollar-a-month basis to aid in meeting the War cost. The above table also gives May War Bond sales in the various states in comparison to the May Quotas. (June sales by states will be available for publication shortly.) The percentage of Quotas range from 71.3 percent above quota in Utah, to 22.6 percent below the quota in Montana, but puts the nation as a whole above the $600,000,000 total May quota. Vulnerable Alaska and Hawaii led all states in sale of War Bonds on quota basis.

"Everybody, every day pay ten percent" is the Treasury slogan which is expected to place one of the attractive new window stickers in every American home. "We're Buying at Least 10%" reads the sticker printed in investing at least ten percent of his income in War Bonds every day, are yardsticks of patriotism in the War Bond Drive.

Prospect Heights OCD picnic August 2nd
The Civilian Defense Council of Prospect Heights are planning for your enjoyment and the benefit of the O.C.D. fund, a grand picnic to be held Aug. 2, from 2 p. m. till 8 p. m. at the Prospect Heights school grounds, Palatine and Schoenbeck rds. Games, novelties, demonstration and exhibits, with prizes for the children's games and races, and prize drawings for everyone are on the schedule. One of the highlights of the day will be the ball game between the Prospect Heights Lions and the O.C.D. team. This should be something, as both teams have been getting in plenty of practice this past week.

The county police will demonstrate the operations of the squad car, and the Girl and Boy Scouts will give a first aid demonstration.

Mr. J. Dudley, director of training will have a fire demonstration with incendiary bomb, and Mr. Gregg, who is in charge of radio, will arrange for Division 10 control center to give the O.C.D. signals via Des Plaines police radio to a local set up or to the county police squadron.

There will be refreshment stand on the grounds, which will sell, pop, ice cream, sandwiches, coffee, cake and hot dogs.

There will also be dancing in the school basement to an orchestra. Admission charge? There is none, we just ask that you attend and support your local OCD in this venture to swell the fund so that necessary equipment can be purchased to operate our local council.

Because children really do not know when they are near-sighted or astigmatic, because they may suffer a slight deafness without complaining, many of them grow into adulthood handicapped for life.

Often a slight correction in childhood makes all the difference in a child's ability to receive education. Are you certain that the hearing and eyesight of your children are normal?

A check by your doctor is the best possible life insurance that you could buy. Your child will not complain if he does not know. The doctor knows. Seek expert advice.

Wheeling days celebration this week-end
The Fifteenth Annual Wheeling Day celebration opens on the Wheeling school grounds, tomorrow, July 25 and closes at midnight on Sunday, the 26th, when the grand prizes will be presented to holders of the lucky tickets. Those prizes are: a three zone electric refrigerator, an electric range, a cabinet radio, Wiltshire luggage, one $100 war bond and four $50 war bonds.
Rides and games this year will include the ever popular tilt-a-whirl, merry-go-round, bingo, and "The Cow Jumped Over the Moon," a new game this year, besides other old favorites.
Of special interest to children will be the races to be held on Sunday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock. All children of the community are invited to enter these races and prizes will be awarded to the winners.
Music for dancing will be furnished both evenings by Walt Bartel's Classic dance orchestra.
Refreshments of all kinds will be on sale on the grounds.
The celebration is sponsored jointly by the Wheeling Chamber of Commerce, Peter Proesel, president, and the Volunteer Fire Dept., Carl Moeller, chief. Committee chairmen, who have been working hard to make the celebration a success, include:
Grand Prize—Earl Johnson.
Registration Booth—Dr. E. E. Gieske.
Hamburger Stand—Hans Schmidt.
Refreshment Stand—John Forke.
Beer Stand—Otto Utpadel.
Bingo Stand, Publicity—Arthur Ortel.
Miscellaneous Booth—Fred Car-gill.
Dance Floor—A. Fasbender, Sr.

Another Sentry ON GUARD

Keen eyes scrutinize every inch of rail and tie. Nothing must be overlooked . . . nothing must be amiss. For over these rails America's fighting forces travel . . . over them, too, speed the armaments of war and the food so essential to victory.

Day in and day out, in fair weather and foul, this "North Western" trackwalker does "sentry duty." Where mechanical perfection leaves off his work begins. True, his duties are not spectacular; few even realize how essential they are. Yet he knows his responsibility and never for a moment does he relax vigilance.

America's railroads are America's life lines. To keep them open is our job. "North Western" has been serving the nation, in war and in peace, for almost a century. Now, as in generations past, we consider it a privilege to do so.

Do you want a bicycle?
Any person who establishes the following is eligible for a bicycle.

A. A person who establishes the following:

1. That he is engaged:
a. in a gainful occupation; or
b. in work which contributes to the war effort or to the public welfare.
2. That he needs a bicycle at least three days a week, to travel to and from, or in the performance of the work or occupation mentioned above.

Unless circumstances require a contrary conclusion, an applicant shall be deemed to have established his need for a bicycle if he shows any of the following in connection with such work or occupation:

- a. He must travel quickly or frequently in delivering merchandise or messages, or in performing any other work or occupation mentioned above, and he would be better able to do so by bicycle than by walking or by using public transportation facilities.
- b. Without a bicycle and using the most convenient public transportation facilities, he would have to walk a total of at least three miles in going to and coming from his work or occupation; or
- c. He would have to spend a total of at least 1 1/2 hours, including necessary walking and waiting time, in going to and coming from his work or occupation by the use of public transportation facilities, which time could be reduced by at least 30 minutes through the use of a bicycle; or
- d. The available public transportation facilities are overcrowded; or
- e. A bicycle is clearly needed because of other circumstances.

3. That he does not already have the use of a bicycle which is adequate for his needs.

4. That since April 2, 1942, he has not sold or otherwise disposed of a bicycle which was adequate for the purpose for which a new adult bicycle is sought, unless at the time of such disposition he was not engaged in work or an occupation mentioned above or he did not need the bicycle.

B. Any person may obtain a certificate authorizing the acquisition of new adult bicycles for the use of such person's officers, agents, employees or volunteer workers who, individually or collectively, satisfy the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section: Provided, however, That no person may obtain a certificate hereunder who has, since April 2, 1942, sold or otherwise disposed of a bicycle which was adequate for the purpose for which a new adult bicycle is sought unless at the time of such disposition he was not engaged in work or an occupation mentioned above or he did not need the bicycle.

C. Any person regularly engaged in the insurance, junk or salvage business who desired to acquire a new adult bicycle which has been destroyed by fire or other accident, for the purpose of using it for scrap or for salvaging its parts. Application blanks are available at the offices of War Price and Rationing boards.

While home, Dick attended the Lutheran Educational association convention in River Forest as southern California's delegate.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 155-millimeter gun is the modern version of the old "GPF" of World War I days. It has a range fifty percent greater than the old gun, having a 95-pound projectile approximately 15 miles. It is capable of high road speed and each one costs $50,000.

BUY NOW

Arsenals of America are working at terrific speed turning out this long range, effective weapon for our armed forces. You and your neighbor working hand-in-hand in unity can make possible the purchase of an adequate number of these guns by buying War Bonds. Put 10 percent of your income in War Bonds to help reach your county quota, every day.

Dubious Divine
An eloquent American divine of the Nineteenth century denounced railroads because, he said, they would require the building of many insane asylums to house people who would be driven mad with terror at the sight of locomotives.

Newcomers and strangers in the village are cordially invited to share in the fellowship of Christian worship and instruction in this church.

Northfield Home Bureau meets

The Northfield Unit of the Cook County Home Bureau met Thursday, July 16 at the home of Mrs. Hintz on Techny rd., with an attendance of 14 members and 9 guests. The membership of this unit now totals 30 ladies.

Mrs. Cornelius, County Home Adviser gave the lessons at this meeting, the major subject being "Stain Removal" and the minor subject being on "Food Garnishes." The ladies found both topics timely and interesting, particularly the one on removing stains.

There will be no business meeting in August, instead a picnic is being planned for the members and their families. With the September meeting, the all-day sessions will undoubtedly be resumed.

St. Matthews picnic August 9

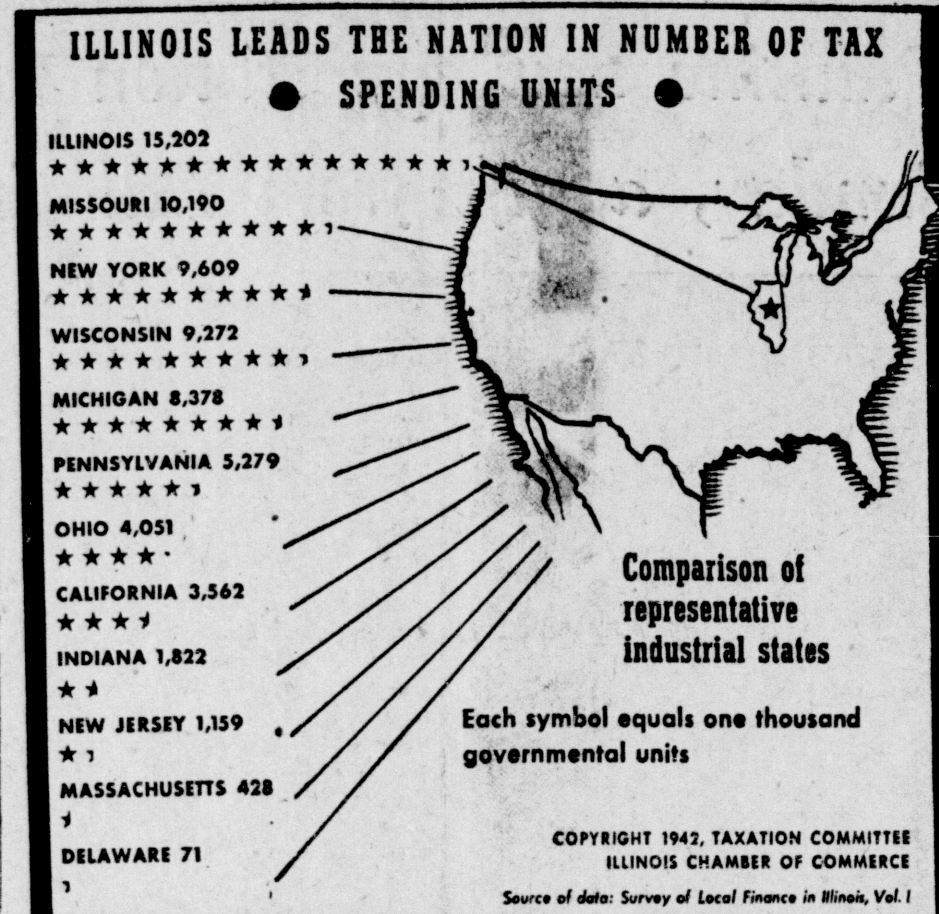

Members of St. Matthews Lutheran congregation are inviting folks to join them at their annual picnic scheduled for Sunday afternoon and evening, Sunday, August 9 on the church grounds. Various games and amusements are planned, and the ladies aid will serve supper as in previous years. Donations for gifts or prizes will be gratefully received.

Mrs. John W. Kath and her twin sister, Mrs. Elmer Kath, of Morton Grove, attended the annual Twins' picnic and outing at Lake Geneva, Sunday.

Private Earl Wilke spent the week-end visiting with his parents, the F. J. Wilke's. Earl is still at the Jefferson Barracks in Missouri.

Al Ahrenfeld was host at a regular old-fashioned barn dance at his home on Central rd., Saturday evening and a very large crowd attended. Louis Balnes was in charge of the music for the evening.

90 more Scouts fill Oh-da-ko-ta

Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta, the summer training camp for Boy Scouts of the Northwest Suburban Council Boy Scouts of America, is again filled to capacity this week with more than 90 campers in attendance, 61 of whom are from the Northwest Suburban Council.

The Scouts who are attending Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta this week are: Troop 32 of Arlington Heights, Richard Haycock; Troop 37 of Arlington Heights, Elmer Wegren, Wilbert Hartmann, Norman Rohlfing, Eugene Schoenbeck, Elmer Homeyer, Richard Molitor; Troop 23 of Mt. Prospect, Geo. Payne, Robt. Wolf, Clarke Robinson, Richard Florence; Troop 15 of Skokie, Jack Ohlson, Thos. Wetmore; Troop 26 of Skokie, Jack Nixon; Troop 4 of Park Ridge, Allan Behm.

Civilian Defense Council were started last week with an enrollment of 115. Classes are held at the school on Wednesday and Thursday evenings each week and folks interested may still join if they make up whatever back lessons they have missed.

Glenview approves new Rugen school

Glenview residents gave approval recently to three issues brought before them in regard to the establishment of a new Rugen school site.

Only forty-five voters turned out to express their opinion: 45 to 0 for purchase of a new site, 45 to 0 to move the present building to that site, and 38 to 6 to restore the educational tax rate to $1.50 per hundred dollars assessed valuation.

The site has already been picked: a ten acre tract costing $8,500. Contract to move the building still to be let. The $1.50 tax rate is the restoration of a former rate prior to consolidation.

The Cold Truth
Although the last Ice age began 30,000 years ago and the ice cap it developed is slowly disappearing, enough ice nevertheless remains in the Antarctic alone to encase the entire globe in a layer 120 feet thick.

Increased Productivity
Between 1910 and 1930, the output of the average American worker increased 39 per cent in manufacturing, and 41 per cent in agriculture.

It Happened Here

The decorator worked with such neatness and dispatch it was suggested he must be a handy man to have around house. He admitted that he was but said, "My wife doesn't think so; she says when I come home I just want to sit — she has to push me three times to get me to do anything about the place. Oh, yes, I work fast and I work neat but I like to rest, she thinks." Which reminded us of the decorator three years ago who was late one morning on an unfinished job which left our rooms in a confusion of planks, nails, brushes and canvas. In discouragement someone went down to the basement and there was the errand decorator sitting on an upturned box peacefully ruminating. "I was just resting a bit," he explained; at the close of a day's work he would naturally require at least three pushes toward any home work. Our workmen were perennially interesting; there was the man from the Gas company who was working on the automatic heater the other day. The house had a full quota of women folks but there was a chore requiring to be done and needing a man's hand and reach; would the man from the Gas company help out? He would and did, scornful of the offer of remuneration. "I guess if I couldn't do a bit of kindness like that once in a while I'd want to lay down and die. Besides," he added with a sheepish grin, "it's the company's time."

Young people at Junior Hi camp

Twenty-three young people from Mount Prospect left Sunday, July 19, for Conference Point Camp on Lake Geneva to attend the annual summer assembly and Junior Hi camp conducted by the Chicago Baptist association. The sessions include religious and character training classes and projects in youth activities, as well as providing an excellent vacation opportunity.

Those attending from town are

Ottos celebrate golden and silver weddings

A golden and silver wedding anniversary will be celebrated July 30th in the same family at a Park Ridge party.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Otto of Scarsdale have been married nearly fifty years, while their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Otto of Park Ridge were married twenty five years ago on the wedding anniversary of Mr. Otto's parents. A dinner party will be held next week Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stengel in Park Ridge.

Every year for twenty four years the two Otto families have come together to celebrate their joint anniversaries at a dinner. Later in the evening a reception for relatives and close friends will be held at the Stengel home.

A third generation, Otto Walter Fraser, will be unable to attend the party as he is stationed in Salt Lake City, Utah, with the army where he is a lecturer on chemical warfare.

Sherman Pate, Jr., will arrive this week-end to visit his family. He will be on furlough from the army, having been stationed at Aberdeen, Maryland.

Mrs. J. Harvey Anderson entertained a group of her friends Saturday for luncheon and bridge.

New residents in Arlington Heights are Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Fluett and their two daughters, Bonnie and Sally. They moved to Arlington from Park Ridge on June twenty eighth.

Mrs. W. M. Ball is leaving for a ten-day vacation in Syracuse, Indiana.

Mrs. H. A. Witt entertained Mrs. W. C. Walters, Mrs. Stanley Wilkins and Mrs. R. C. Haase at joint luncheon Tuesday at Rolling Green country club.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Jacobson with their son Tommy, left Monday for a two weeks' vacation at the Indian Trail Inn, Cadillac, Michigan.

Mrs. W. C. Walters is entertaining her bridge club on Friday.

Mr. Hugo J. Thal was in Huntington, Indiana, on Monday for the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wulfmann. Mrs. Wulfmann was 102 years old and had been living in Cincinnati at the time of her death. She was born in New Mendon, St. Clare county, Illinois, a town founded by and named after her family.

Mr. Ed Volz of North Evergreen street has been in the hospital in Chicago.

Arlington Local News

The Charles Scherf family enjoyed a picnic on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Scherf's cousin and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Smith live in North Chicago.

In honor of Mr. F. E. Stites' birthday, a party was held Tuesday evening at which Mr. and Mrs. Stites entertained Mr. and Mrs. Charles Padock.

The Gerald Morrissey family has left on a two weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Barr and son and Mr. and Mrs. John Kent and son were guests of the L. E. Summers' family of Belvidere on Sunday.

Miss Winifred Wensley spent Friday night in Chicago visiting Miss Betty Dvorak.

Mrs. Edward L. Mills of Long Island, New York, who has been visiting in the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mills, is returning with her fourteen months old daughter, Patty, to Long Island on Saturday. Her husband, L. E. Mills, is for the present stationed at Mitchell Field, Long Island.

The S. A. Baker family has returned from a two weeks' vacation in Toronto, Canada, where they visited relatives. While in Canada Mrs. Baker added to her collection of English china cups and saucers.

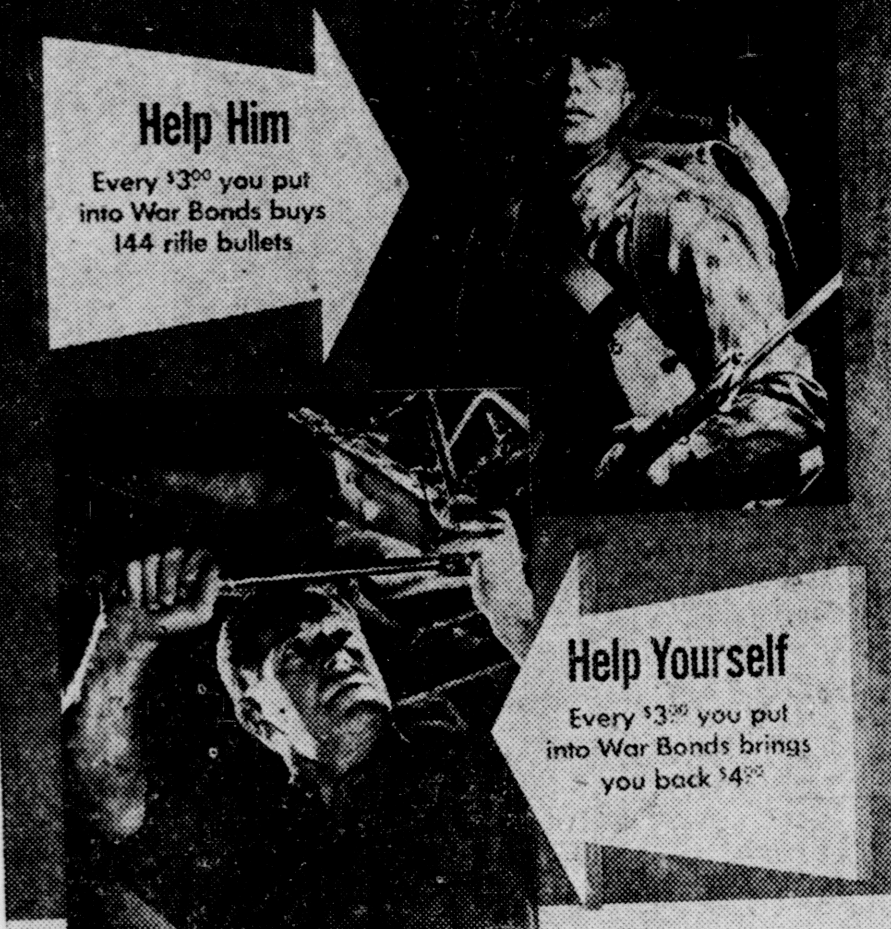

Judge and Mrs. W. L. Parkinson and their daughter, Ruth Ann, are visiting in the home of Mrs. C. H. Mills. Judge Parkinson, who is a nephew of Mrs. Mills', filled a speaking engagement in Waukegan on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. S. A. Baker is entertaining a foursome for luncheon and bridge on Thursday.

Mrs. Clara Moore of Monona, Iowa, an aunt of Mrs. C. H. Mills, has returned home after a visit in Arlington Heights.

Nancy Wood, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Wood, celebrated her fifth birthday on Sunday. In honor of the occasion she entertained a group of the children of Sherwood at a party. Her most prized birthday present is a swing for the back yard.

Legion auxiliary quilt won by Mrs. Emma Miller

The beautiful blue and white quilt, awarded by the American Legion Auxiliary as part of the carnival program, was won by Mrs. Emma Miller of 402 S. Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights. Mrs. Paul Carroll drew the winning ticket. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. A. C. Rector, many tickets were sold, and the auxiliary wishes to express its thanks to all who contributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Barkhausen spent the week-end in Lake Forest and at Random Lake, Wisconsin. Their son, Louis, is spending the summer at Random Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Price of Chicago spent the week-end with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Witt of Sherwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Baxter returned to Burlington, Wisconsin, on Sunday to visit relatives and to pick up their son, Emery, who spent the week at Boy Scout Camp, Oh-Da-Ko-Ta at Dyers Lake.

Bob O'Hagan was at home with his family, the Charles P. O'Hagans on Sunday and Monday to celebrate his 21st birthday. He is attending summer school at Marquette University in Milwaukee. Miss Lillian Kellner of Manitowish, Wisconsin was a week-end guest at the O'Hagans. On Sunday the entire O'Hagan family gathered together to celebrate Bob's 21st birthday which was Monday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Nat T. Burfield who celebrated their seventh wedding anniversary on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Atkinson returned early in the week from a vacation at Black Oak Lodge, Land O' Lakes, Wisconsin. Mrs. Atkinson will soon leave for a visit with friends in Marshfield, Iowa. The Warren Fellinghams and G. H. Hellers returned Wednesday, and the Blackbourns returned Saturday also from Black Oak Lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Irving Rinker joined the party for a few days' fishing at Land O' Lakes.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

A group of Camp Fire Girls from Arlington Heights have spent this past week at camp O'Kabachi at Ottawa, Illinois. Among those in the group are Irene Lattof, Marjorie O'Brien, Peggy Taylor, and Joan Sheridan.

Because of the increased activity at the swimming pool, four new guards about the wading pool. They are: Joan Randag, Jane Hayes, Jean Blackburn, and Priscilla Glow. Tuesday afternoon the girls had their pictures taken at the pool, so that it could be sent to the Camp Fire Girls' magazine published in the fall issue.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hartford and Commander and Mrs. Bert Powell attended a dance Saturday evening given for fifty-nine sailors from the Naval Armory at the Oak Park Country Club. The dance was given by the Oak Park-River Forest Bundles for America group, and they provided a week-end much like the one several weeks ago by the local unit.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Kastning announce the birth of a daughter, Karen Lee, on July 16. The baby was born in the Elmhurst hospital and is the Kastning's first child.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving M. Grotesend announce the birth of a son, Charles Allen, on July 16, at the Elmhurst hospital. Mrs. Grotesend is the former Ella Steeger.

Tar, not salt, catches birds

North Chestnut st., Arlington Heights, was the place where, one day last week, several birds might be said to have been tarred — and feathered. In the afternoon the street was tarred and it was too late to put the protecting gravel surface on top. Thus it was left stickily inviting to the birds. As the number of those which were stuck mounted, a frantic rescue squad of neighbors was formed to release them. Fortunately all but one or two of the birds were freed. A day or so later, a little child of the neighborhood thought it would be interesting to see how a kitten would react to the tar. Since the tar was partly dry by then, the kitten with difficulty could walk about, carefully shaking each paw as it came free. Each time it would reach the sanctuary of the grass, its small master would put it back until both kitten and boy grew tired of this sort of play.

Bible school at camp grounds

Beginning Sunday afternoon and continuing through Friday, a Bible school for youngsters in 4th, 5th, and 6th grades will be held at the Methodist Camp Grounds in Des Plaines.

It will be run like a regular camp but will have added religious activities. One hundred children from Chicago and area are expected with about eight or so coming from Arlington Heights.

Among the activities planned are story telling hours, hand crafts, sports, creative dramatics, and nature study. In addition each day a morning watch service and an evening vesper service will be held. This is the first year that a children's Bible School has been held at Des Plaines, and it is expected to be a great success.

Brownie news

The July meeting of the Brownies (girls interested in the Girl Scout movement, who are too young to be Scouts) was held at Deer Grove on the sixteenth. Under the leadership of Miss Virginia McElhose, the girls cooked their own lunches and afterwards played games and sang. Ten girls attended the meeting and were accompanied by two mothers.

Ruth and Esther Karstens are spending two weeks at Camp Arcadia, Arcadia, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Kastning announce the birth of a daughter, Karen Lee, on July 16. The baby was born in the Elmhurst hospital and is the Kastning's first child.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving M. Grotesend announce the birth of a son, Charles Allen, on July 16, at the Elmhurst hospital. Mrs. Grotesend is the former Ella Steeger.

American Legion auxiliary notes

Merle Guild Unit, Number 208, American Legion Auxiliary, wishes to extend its gratitude and thanks to the friends who worked so willingly to help make the Festival a success. If any name has been unwittingly omitted, it has been by oversight and not by design. The following are those who helped: Miss Esther Daggett, Miss Lorraine Foley, Mesdames Otto Bolte, August Miller, Russell Ford, Lee Atkinson, V. Horath, O. Kline, Mrs. Charles Williams of Milwaukee, a sister of Mrs. Merle Holtz, and Dr. Edwin Baumann. To all auxiliary members who were able to work, the president, Thelma Carroll, extends thanks and felicitations. The lucky winner of the quilt is Mrs. Emma Miller.

Kate Smith tells about need for old victrola records

The entertainment world has placed a priority on talent for the armed forces. Benefits for Army and Navy Relief, the United Service Organizations, and similar responsibilities rank high in the list of every artist's must appearances.

Some of us wish we were permitted to go to the battle stations of the world to sing and play for the boys. In view of the obvious restrictions — can only do the next best thing — to supply recordings of the best in popular and classical music.

Until a few weeks ago we sought some method of mobilizing a campaign to accomplish this aim. But we didn't want to resort to the usual appeal for funds. People should be buying war stamps and war bonds and contributing cash to the many well-deserving causes. In studying ways and means of going ahead, we came to an important conclusion.

Since America has become conservation-minded, why not base our campaign on salvage? The impact of war has driven home the realization that we must make the best possible use of what we have in the common interest of the war effort.

For the first time, millions of Americans are learning that materials once regarded as waste can now be salvaged and can regain usefulness in the manufacture of weapons and articles of recreation for our fighting men. It doesn't cost anything to dispose of these materials and they can be of vital use to a world in total war.

So a group of us — singers, orchestra leaders, concert musicians, opera stars — people like Kay Kyser, Gene Autry, Lily Pons, Oscar Levant, Benny Goodman, Lotte Lehmann, Eddy Duchin, Gene Krupa, and literally dozens of others — are sponsoring a corporation known as Records For Our Fighting Men, Inc. Our aim is to salvage at least 37,500,000 old phonograph records, convert these into scrap, sell it to record manufacturers and with the proceeds buy phonograph players and records for American men in uniform wherever they may be. We shan't have to ask anybody for cash contributions because we figure we can raise at least $937,500 through this nationwide salvage drive. Moreover, we have already reached an agreement with record manufacturers whereby Records For Our Fighting Men, Inc., can buy new records at manufacturer's cost. This means that no one is to make any profit out of the campaign, except America's armed forces, which will be assured of a continuous supply of music for the duration.

The American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary have volunteered to work with us on this drive. They'll go from door-to-door, from coast-to-coast, just to pick up the records America contributes to her fighting boys to this point. Today, there are dozens of good causes to which you can contribute funds. Records For Our Fighting Men, Inc., seeks only the old phonograph discs which are no longer useful and which may be worn out or cracked or broken. We want you to help us to salvage these and thus we'll all be doing our part to spread the gospel of making the best possible use of everything we have.

In this instance, the old records you contribute will provide the means for obtaining new records — for the best and newest available — for our fighting men. As new records are released, a board of judges made up of artists who know what American men like to hear will choose the records, including swing music, sweet music, classical music, folk ballads and other selections. The songs we sing at home will be brought to fighting Americans all over the world.

Since America has become conservation-minded, why not base our campaign on salvage? The impact of war has driven home the realization that we must make the best possible use of what we have in the common interest of the war effort.

For the first time, millions of Americans are learning that materials once regarded as waste can now be salvaged and can regain usefulness in the manufacture of weapons and articles of recreation for our fighting men. It doesn't cost anything to dispose of these materials and they can be of vital use to a world in total war.

So a group of us — singers, orchestra leaders, concert musicians, opera stars — people like Kay Kyser, Gene Autry, Lily Pons, Oscar Levant, Benny Goodman, Lotte Lehmann, Eddy Duchin, Gene Krupa, and literally dozens of others — are sponsoring a corporation known as Records For Our Fighting Men, Inc. Our aim is to salvage at least 37,500,000 old phonograph records, convert these into scrap, sell it to record manufacturers and with the proceeds buy phonograph players and records for American men in uniform wherever they may be. We shan't have to ask anybody for cash contributions because we figure we can raise at least $937,500 through this nationwide salvage drive. Moreover, we have already reached an agreement with record manufacturers whereby Records For Our Fighting Men, Inc., can buy new records at manufacturer's cost. This means that no one is to make any profit out of the campaign, except America's armed forces, which will be assured of a continuous supply of music for the duration.

The American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary have volunteered to work with us on this drive. They'll go from door-to-door, from coast-to-coast, just to pick up the records America contributes to her fighting boys to this point. Today, there are dozens of good causes to which you can contribute

Firemen's festival now in progress

The big annual festival of the Palatine fire department is on.

With rides, games, refreshment stands, the Monte Carlo water fights, nightly drawings with war bonds as the prizes and a host of amusements, the big festival goes into full swing tonight and will continue through Sunday evening.

On Sunday afternoon the dedication of the new fire station will take place at 2 p. m. at the new station on Slade st. and this event will be the high spot in the annual celebration, as at that time the boys of the fire department will turn over to the village the new fire station built from the proceeds of their annual festivals.

Not only has the fire department built a new fire station, but they have bought fire trucks, a pumper, and a lot of equipment from the proceeds of their annual celebrations.

So the big event is always for a good cause, come out and enjoy yourself and join these hard working firemen in four nights of fun and neighborly cooperation for the good of the community.

ROBERTS RETURN FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Roberts returned Sunday from a two week vacation, which they spent at Min-Lake near Wapaca, Wisconsin. They report that the fishing was very good. Mrs. Ray McMullin accompanied them to Wapaca where she spent the two weeks visiting with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holly. Mrs. McMullin also returned home Sunday.

RETURN FROM TOUR OF THE WEST

Miss Helen Schoppe and Miss Elsie Mess returned last Sunday night from a tour of the western states. They visited Estes Park, Royal Gorge, Cave of the Winds and the Will Rogers Memorial on Cheyenne Mountain.

They reported that there seemed to be ample accommodation but schedules were disrupted by the movements of troop trains which had precedence over all other railroad traffic.

10% OF INCOME IS OUR QUOTA IN WAR BONDS

Palatine will organize USO drive

The annual drive for funds to support the United Service Organizations is on all over the country. Palatine has been given a quota of $750 to raise for this worthy cause.

Mayor Wm. H. De Pue and Mrs. Grace Pepper, chairman of the Voluntary Defense Council are calling a meeting for next Tuesday night at the village hall at 8 p. m. to organize for this drive for funds.

All organizations and the relatives of the boys in service are being invited to attend this meeting. It is expected that the volunteer committee will be given charge of the drive.

The funds raised for the U.S.O. are used to furnish entertainment and relaxation centers for the boys in service and these centers are doing a wonderful work.

The slogan of the drive is the U.S.O. for the U.S.A.

The U.S.O. drive is to be organized and put on in Palatine and everyone is asked to do what they can for this worthy cause when the solicitors call.

Local women aid founding of Northland club

Mrs. Nan Gaare and her two sisters, the Misses Frances and Mildred Berlin, were among those who recently organized the Northland club composed of former residents of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The club holds its meetings once a month at the Viking Temple in Chicago.

At the last meeting Mrs. Gaare, Miss Mildred Berlin and Miss Frances Berlin sang "Yours" and "Three Little Sisters." Miss Dolores Gaare played a piano number entitled "The Juggler."

Miss Joan Berlin, Dolores' cousin from Ironwood, Michigan, played "The Minuet in G" and "Alice Blue Gown." Miss Dolores Gaare and Don Gaare favored the audience with a dance number entitled "The Russian Mazurka."

After the program, supper was served and there were games and dancing for all who wished to stay. The club will hold an annual picnic and an anniversary dance.

District legion auxiliary meet well attended

Ninth District of the American Legion Auxiliary held its annual meeting last Thursday evening at Cutting Hall in Palatine. Palatine and Barrington Units were co-hostesses to the assembled group. Annual reports were given and elections were held.

Anne Leon, director, presided at the meeting and Hazel Rose, president of Palatine unit, welcomed the visitors in a most gracious manner. Betty Smith of Palatine was chosen as the election judge and the newly elected officers are as follows, and will hold office for the coming year.

Director—Theresa Anderson of Logan Unit.

Alternate Director—Anne Kelly of Belmont Park Unit.

Treasurer—Fanny Harlan of Conley Unit.

Chaplain—May Wisersky of Arlington Heights Unit.

Historian—Anne Woodville of LaFayette Unit.

Sergeant-at-arms—Doris Wassmund of River Grove Unit.

The delegates were delightfully entertained during the evening by Miss Lura Lee Langendorf who gave several vocal selections. She was accompanied at the piano by Mr. Kenneth Grom. Both of the young people were from Barrington.

After the completion of the business meeting lovely refreshments were served in the school lunch room. Mrs. Rose Mosser was chairman of arrangements and her co-chairman was Mrs. Bertha Frye of Barrington.

Palatine hospital

Mary Ann Raupp and Robert Raupp, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Raupp, Prairie View, Illinois, had their tonsils removed July 16th.

Mr. Leo J. Rahn, Norwood Park, Illinois, underwent an operation on July 17.

Leroy Herschenbach, Palatine, Illinois, RFD, had his tonsils removed on July 17.

Mrs. Hazel Fairley, Palatine, Illinois, RFD, underwent a major operation on July 18.

Miss Lorraine Raupp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Raupp, Prairie View, Illinois, had her tonsils removed July 20.

Mr. David Sprague, Barrington, Illinois, is receiving care at the Palatine hospital, for injuries received in an automobile accident July 19, 1942.

Miss Annette LaMarche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav LaMarche, Prairie View, Illinois, had her tonsils removed July 20.

Admiral's Famous Words
In the Battle of Mobile Bay, August 5, 1864, the Union fleet was warned that the harbor which it was approaching was honeycombed with mines. The leading monitor, Tecumseh, struck a mine and was sunk. The Brooklyn, which was leading the main column, halted and the ensuing confusion augured defeat for the Union fleet. Admiral Farragut, after receiving the warning of torpedoes, cried: "Damn the torpedoes, Captain Drayton, go ahead! Jouett, full speed!"

Glamorous Gene

In her first modern role, Gene Tierney acquits herself nicely, as she does in the bathing suit shown here. She is co-starred with Henry Fonda in "Rings on Her Fingers" at the Des Plaines theatre Sunday.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stoner, with their daughters, Mary and Katherine, spent several days last week visiting relatives in Detroit and Chelsea, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Rex of Chicago were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Robertson.

Gar Fish Are Edible

Gar-Fish (known also as Bill-Fish and Needle-Fish), native of both temperate and tropical seas and fresh water, have bones of a pale, sea-green color. There are about 40 to 50 known species, some four to five feet long. They have long, silvery bodies and long, pointed, sharply-toothed beaks. Related to flying fish, they swim on the surface. The fish are edible but their green color deters people from eating them.

News of Prospect Heights

Capt. Alvin Ayers of Clarendon st. was surprised on Thursday evening by the neighbors in his block when they dropped in at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Giesler where Ayers were guests, to bid adieu to the Captain who was leaving the following morning for Camp McCoy. Mrs. Ayers and the children hope to join the Captain as soon as possible.

Little Charlene Ledyard will enter in 12 of her little friends at a birthday party this evening. Many more happy birthdays Charlene.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Neighbors whose wedding anniversary was the 16th and to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Williams, who celebrated their wedding anniversary on the 17th. Mr. Dave Williams is now enjoying his vacation by the way.

Jackie Westerman is now home and feeling much better after undergoing a tonsilectomy last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Miller and family were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Orose on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gildemeister and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ledyard and Charlene, enjoyed a day at Cedar Lake on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. "Chuckie" Williams were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dallstrom on Saturday and on Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Dallstrom entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. Eberhardt of Chicago.

Mrs. M. Repecke of Park Ridge was a luncheon guest on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Roy A. Hartke.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schwennessen entertained Mrs. E. Schwennessen, mother of Mr. Schwennessen, his aunt, Mrs. F. Gartz, and her son, Mr. E. Gartz of Chicago, at Sunday dinner. On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bowman and family were supper guests at the Schwennessen home.

Dr. and Mrs. Fitch had as their house guest last week, little Jacqueline Seymour, and as an added treat to the little one's holiday Mrs. Fitch gave a party for her guest in honor of her 7th birthday.

We have received word from the Roy C. Bolt family who recently moved to Kansas City. They wish to be remembered to all of their friends. Say they are very fond of their new home even though the temperature has not dropped below 90 degrees for the past six weeks. Their victory garden boast of tomato plants 4 ft. high, after asking a pioneer just how high they grew before stopping, Kay was informed they would grow 6 ft. or more. Dem's tomatoes what! The Bolt family enjoy reading this column every week, which they say brings them closer to home.

We extend our sympathies to the C. Holcombe family. Mr. Holcombe's father passed away this week.

Mr. Roy Hartke and his guest enjoyed the races at Arlington Park before Mr. Wallenberg left for home.

Mrs. Carl Erlich of Elmhurst rd., was the guest of honor at a stork shower given by Mrs. Les Erlicher and Mrs. O. McDonald, Thursday evening of last week at the home of Mrs. Kercher. Mrs. Erlich's neighbors surprised her with lovely gifts. The guests enjoyed playing cards which was followed by delicious refreshments and an appropriately decorated cake for the occasion and served by the co-hostess.

Only July 15th a party was held to celebrate Mrs. Hall's seventieth birthday. 17 guests attended the party.

How to arrange food in your Refrigerator.

Pin this helpful reminder near your refrigerator

Different kinds of foods require different degrees of temperature and humidity. All you need do is put the food in the right places as indicated above.

Not all foods need be kept in your refrigerator, but probably more than you have been placing there. For example, bread will stay fresh days longer if kept in the refrigerator (lower section).

Shelled nuts and chocolate keep better, too. Bananas should never be put in the refrigerator. And such items as mayonnaise, catsup, pickles and olives need not take up this valuable space.

To properly store and keep perishable vegetables, wash and skin off all surplus material before placing them in the crisper.

You Help Someone You Know

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

WALTHER LEAGUE

Northern Illinois District

News items for this column should be mailed to Dorothy Machel, publicity chairman, 6027 W. Highland, Chicago.

Hello, Leaguers
The district has gained what the Zone has lost—a "super" publicity chairman. We wish Arlene, Arlington's woman of the year, every success in her district job. We know that she will succeed in making northern Illinois more conscious of the Walther League. I hope that I will be able to fill at least one of her journalistic shoes as Zone Publicity chairman.

Music, Grant Park, and Betty

The Wednesday concert at Grant Park July 22, is now a memory, a pleasant one—thanks to Betty Keuer, our new Cultural and Recreational Activities chairman. Betty is certainly a girl of ideas. She made arrangements for all Leaguers who work in the Chicago loop to meet and eat together before going to Grant Park. Be prepared for something different in the way of zone beach parties this August, because Betty is planning something very novel.

Summer Athletics

Have you seen the Arlington Leaguers with a queer, almost murderous look in their eyes on Tuesday evenings? No, the revolution has not come; but it is Walther League volleyball night at Arlington Recreation Park. For several Tuesdays, the Arlington Leaguers have been meeting there. Now that they feel quite confident of their skill with the volleyball, they are inviting other leagues of the Northwest Suburban Zone to play against them. Any comers?

Des Plaines came into its own last Sunday when its Walther League baseball team triumphed over Arlington 4-3. Even though the temperature was 90, the game itself was so hot that the score was tied in the seventh inning.

Conventions in the Making
Although the International Walther League Convention which had been scheduled to be held at Denver July 7-15 was called off, the Northwest Suburban Leaguers are finding that silver linings still exist. It has been announced that the spirit of the convention will be brought to every society by means of a special "convention program." This program will consist of devotional material, a digest of important convention resolutions, suggestions for a Talent Quest and recreational activity.

The League is determined to push forward in its fiftieth year even amid war hardships. A dedication conference of District Leaguers will be held in Chicago in connection with the dedication of the League's new headquarters building on September 20. All district presidents, treasurers, membership secretaries, and junior chairmen will meet to discuss important phases of the League's future program.

Since we learned that it would be impossible to hold our district convention at the Stevens Hotel this fall as we have done so many years in the past, we have been keeping on the trail of Carl Scholman of Arlington, our Zone representative to the district convention committee. He tells us that, at present, the committee is considering the LaSalle or the Drake Hotel.

Zone Board Meets

In order to allow our Zone executives time to rest their brains so that they will have even better ideas next fall, it was decided to discontinue Zone board meetings for the summer. The last one was at Norwood Park. The new Junior Northwest Suburban Walther League Zone will begin to attend our board meetings this fall.

More About the Juniors

Last week I met Arthur Krause, Junior Zone president, from Norwood Park, and found that the Juniors have been planning things, too. The whole Junior board is planning together a picnic at Elk Grove. Hope we're invited.

Let's We Forget

How long has it been since you wrote to one of our Leaguers in service? Remember how we promised we'd write faithfully every week and then... We can always try a second time, and to make that try easier I have listed below the current addresses of some of our Leaguers:

Sorry, I haven't the addresses of any more of the boys. I hope to have more in next week.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKoun

WE READ a lot about the Russian army and its leaders these days. But what about the Russian people themselves? How are they like Americans and how are they different? "Shooting the Russian War," by Margaret Bourke-White, talks about people and not about politics. Miss Bourke-White and her husband, Erskine Caldwell, went to Moscow in the spring of 1941 and stayed until the Russians had begun their great counter-offensive. Mr. Caldwell gave his account of their experiences in his book, "All Out on the Road to Smolensk," published several months ago. Now we have the story from a woman's viewpoint in his wife's book.

Margaret Bourke-White is one of our ace photographers, and "Shooting the Russian War," in addition to its entertaining text, contains some of the best photographs that have come out of this war—air raids, front line villages recaptured by the Red Army, workers, farmers and soldiers on duty, and even churches and the people who worship there.

Miss Bourke-White is justly proud of her Stalin photographs, since it is very difficult for an American to get an audience with the Soviet leader. She says that Stalin looked very stern—as though his face was carved out of granite—until she started crawling around on the floor so she could set her camera at the proper angle. This struck him as funny and he burst out laughing.

The week before the Nazi invasion, the Caldwells were visiting in Georgia, in the South of Russia. The Georgians were delighted to learn that Erskine also had come from Georgia—the United States variety. Their excursion was conducted by the leading poets of Georgia. "Both Georgias grew cotton. Both were famous for corn and oranges. Both had golden sunshine. Both produced beautiful women. But, best of all, both Georgias were noted as the birthplaces of the greatest writers in the land," they said. At this point Miss Bourke-White whispered to her husband that his play "Tobacco Road" had never seen anything like this. He whispered back that they were just a lot of Georgia crackers here, same as back home.

The Nazis try to minimize the German losses, but they can't fool all their people all the time. Harry Flannery, who was successor to William Shirer as a CBS broadcaster from Berlin, and whose book, "Assignment to Berlin," is an excellent sequel to Shirer's Book-of-the-Month Club selection, "Berlin Diary," tells this story which he heard from the Germans themselves. It seems that four German aviators came before St. Peter and asked to be admitted through the pearly gates.

"And who are you?" asked Peter. "We are four German aviators who were shot down over the Channel today."

"Four?" Peter looked at his list. "Sorry," he said, "three of you will have to go below. The communiqué says that only one was shot down today."

Molaski family gets more publicity in Virginia paper

The Isador Molaski family of Palatine has received mounting publicity throughout the country because of the father and three sons being in service of Uncle Sam. This week a clipping of the Richmond, Virginia, Times-Dispatch, was received carrying a three column cut and story of "Chief Carpenter's Mate Isidor H. Molaski showing off to assist in building advance navy bases abroad."

Mrs. Molaski has received a medal of honor for her family's efforts to keep America alive and just recently returned from visiting her husband on the east coast, prior to his leaving for parts unknown.

The Molaskis have three sons in service, one in Iceland, one in Texas and the third at Pensacola.

'IR' men look for delinquent motorists

Collectors from the office of internal revenue are making a tour of parking lots to check on car owners who have not as yet bought their auto use stamp. Owners without the stamp on the windshield were requested to call at the United States court house within five days. If, however, owners purchase stamps and have the post office from which stamps are purchased make a notation of this fact on the mimeographed notice, it will not be necessary to appear.

The notice requires owners to return this appearance notice to the internal revenue department with a signed statement, indicating that the driver has complied with the law. License numbers are to be noted on the notice, as are the make of car and year model.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, said that many owners who received tickets had federal use tax stamps in their bill-folds. Such motorists, he said, would be required to make a note of the serial number of the sticker, the post office address where it was secured, the approximate date secured, a statement that the stamp was now affixed to the windshield, sign the treasury department notice, and return it to the office of internal revenue.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Bell, of Highland Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marion, to Arthur R. Standcliff, of Half Day. She is employed by the Public Service Company in Northbrook. Mr. Standcliff is employed by the Lake-Cook Farm Supply company of Arlington Heights. He expects to be called soon to go into training.

Rocket rides thrill many at Riverview

Two rocket rides at Riverview Park await those who have the urge to soar through space and thrill to the feeling which simulates riding a shooting star.

One is called the "Rocket Ship," a device which seats eight persons. Constructed like a huge pendulum, it rocks back and forth, faster and faster, until it finally makes a complete revolution, giving its adventurers a never-to-be-forgotten ride.

The second is the "Roll-O-Plane," also a ride for eight persons, similar to the "Rocket Ship," but built so that each car twists and turns as it goes over and over. The sensation is truly unique, yet riders needn't fear that they will be wrong side up at any time. The revolutions of the "Plane" are timed so that the cars are always right-side up, despite their contorted actions.

Ever popular with Riverview guests are the "Bobs," mile-a-minute roller coaster, the "Comet," new streamlined coaster this season, and the "Pair-O-Chutes," parachute jump down guide wires from 265-foot towers.

A dead story but it came to life in last week's Herald

As the Herald reporter made the rounds of the county police station last week, a misplaced report got into his hands and a story of an accident at Baurup's Sausage store on Dundee road, that occurred last November, was again published. Mr. Baurup has erected various fortifications to guard against a repetition of such accidents and was very much shocked to have it happen on paper.

Folks, the story is dead and has been dead for some time.

The Agriculture Scholarship went to Wm. Lahvic, Junior, 1820 south Prospect street, Park Ridge.

IT'S THE LAW

AS OLD AS CIVILIZED MAN

At least as far back as the Romans and other ancient peoples, the practice of publicly giving due notice was well established. That long ago the necessity of posting such Notices in public places was widely recognized, and the effectiveness of the method proved.

Such Notices might be put up in the circus or some other public place. Sometimes they were put on the sides of buildings.

This may have been good enough for the Romans but it wouldn't meet today's needs. Cities are larger, nations are more populous, and life is generally more complex.

The modern newspaper is the chief reliance today for Public Notices of all kinds. Occasionally other media are used for special reasons, but the newspaper remains the surest and most effective medium for this purpose.

'The Show-off' at Elmhurst

The Elmhurst Community Theatre is borrowing a gay comedy of the giddy twenties for its second production this season to be given in the Elmhurst college auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings, July 24 and 25. Staged by Prof. C. C. Arends, director of the theatre, "The Show-off" by George Kelly will be presented in costumes, settings and tempo of the mid-twenties.

Leading roles in the comedy will be played by Larry Kelly, resident of Lombard, newspaperman and one of the most outstanding actors in the Elmhurst theatre, and Marjorie Ryan, who has starred in several Lombard and Elmhurst Community theatre productions.

Kelly is playing the role of the swaggering, egotistical, loudspoken but lovable Aubrey Piper, the "show-off," and Miss Ryan will be cast as Mrs. Piper.

Other leading roles in the three-act comedy will be taken by Mrs. Larry Kelly, Twila Bell, Don Carlson, John Banas and Lewis Stoerker.

Sell-out crowds attended the opening performance of the theatre July 10 and 11, when the Hart-Kaufman laugh riot, "George Washington Slept Here," was presented. All net proceeds this season will go to the war effort.

N U orchestra and chorus to give concert

The Northwestern university orchestra and chorus will give a joint concert, open to the public, Monday, July 27, at 7:15 p. m., in the east quadrangle at Sheridan rd. and University place, it was announced today.

A varied program was promised by George Dasch and George Howerton, directors of the orchestra and chorus respectively.

The program will be opened with Goldmark's "Sakuntala," rendered by the orchestra. The chorus will then sing five pieces: Bach's "Chorus from Cantata No. 142"; Regard's "Gay Little Nymph"; De-Brock's "In Sorrow Now I Cry to Thee"; Scandello "The Little White Hen"; and Staden's "A Galliard."

Following the playing of Svend-sen's "Zorahayda" by the orchestra, the chorus will return to give six songs: Niles-Horton's "Sing We the Virgin Mary"; "I'm So Glad Trouble Don't Last Away"; and "One Morning in May"; Mignone's "Cantiga de Ninar"; Thibault's "Go, Lovely Rose"; and Gretcheninoff's "O Glad so me Light."

Brahm's Finale from Symphony No. 1 in C minor will conclude the program.

Thousands may not be able to vote this year

Thousands may not be able to vote this year. Thousands of residents of the country towns of Cook county will be unable to vote at the general election Tuesday, November 3, unless they register soon, was the warning issued this week. Never before have there been so many changes in residence or as many people moving in from other states or from downstate, war conditions having caused this vast shift in population.

Therefore, according to County Commissioner Wm. Busse it behooves all voters to ascertain whether or not they are registered in the precinct, township, or city in which they live. He points out that registering at once (and before October 6 when the books are sent to the Election Commissioners in the County Building, Chicago) will assure a voter the right of franchise this November and also save him a long trek to the Loop.

"Unless you lived in the state a year, the county 90 days and the precinct 30 days, you cannot vote," warns Mr. Busse. "But even if you fill these requirements you must still be registered in your proper precinct and thousands of country town voters in Cook County are not now so registered."

"So you are urged to go to the proper places now and become a properly registered voter, as no citizen will want to lose his right to the ballot — his right to American privileges, in a year such as this one."

Northbrook driver forced from road and into wall

Stanley Juzdzinski of Northbrook was forced off the road Thursday night and into a brick wall, suffering numerous cuts about the head and face.

Juzdzinski had been driving along Waukegan road at Lake ave. when a southbound car driving on the wrong side of the pavement forced him off. The car ran out of control and hit the wall, breaking the steering wheel and windshield. The Northbrook man was given first aid by a Glenview doctor.

Registrants warned to notify draft boards of changes

Selective service registrants were warned this week to send prompt notification of changes of address to draft boards or face prosecution in federal court for violation of the selective service law.

In issuing the warning, Col. Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois director of selective service, stated, "In most cases, registrants are simply careless about notifying their local boards. However, the federal courts are not inclined to accept carelessness as an excuse for failure to carry out the full requirements of the law. In fact, there has been an increasing tendency to stiffen the policy of the federal courts in dealing with draft law violators. Five men were sent to federal penitentiaries last week — each being given a sentence of three years or more — because of failure to comply with legally required selective service duties."

"Our local boards have no desire to make trouble for registrants," continued Col. Armstrong, "but the Boards are duty bound to carry out their responsibilities which have been laid down by Congress in the law and by the President in the selective service regulations."

Director Armstrong pointed out that every registrant, within ten days after he moved from one address to another, is required to send written notice of such change to his local board.

Army needs men for Signal Corps

With curtailment of the commissioning of civilians, Major General George Grunert, commanding general of the Sixth Corps Area with headquarters in Chicago, has emphasized the opportunities for draft-age men in Volunteer Officer Candidate schools.

There is an urgent need for officers in the Signal Corps, and candidates for officer training at the Signal Corps schools are being enrolled directly from men in 3-A draft classifications, General Grunert pointed out.

Under the Volunteer Officer Candidate plan, men classified 3-A in the draft may volunteer through their draft board for induction for a 13-week basic training period. At the end of this period, if they fail to earn a recommendation for officer training, they are returned to civilian status.

Candidates recommended for officers school are commissioned as second lieutenants in the Signal Corps upon passing the four-month course.

IRV MOEHLING SOLOS FOR ARMY

Irving Moehling, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Moehling of Rand rd., who is with the Air Force Training Detachment stationed at Fort Stockton, Texas, after ten hours of dual instruction made his solo flight on his birthday, Tuesday, July 14.

Irving enlisted in the Army Air Force immediately after the Pearl Harbor incident and left for Santa Ana, California, in April. For the past month he has been stationed at Fort Stockton.

Auto deaths continue drop

The auto accident and death rate continues to decline as the war goes on and more autos are taken off the highway, it was revealed this week.

During the first six months of the war (since Pearl Harbor) auto fatalities totaled 1100 persons in Illinois. During May, sixth month of the war, fatalities decreased from 206 in '41 to 125. Traffic decreased 8 per cent. May was the third month of declining accident rates. December and January had proven new highs in rates but in March the decline began.

One fact noticeable in a study of percentages is that the breach between state-wide traffic and that on just rural highways has widened — an 8 per cent decline over the state while a 16 per cent drop in rural areas. This indicates that autoists are still operating their cars for local needs, but are cutting out the extended trips on the open highways.

May traffic was approximately the same as in December. Ordinarily in May there is a 5 per cent increase. Fatalities fell 61 per cent from 317 to 125. Heretofore the difference has been 25 per cent.

Covering the six months period, fatalities fell in city areas but increased in rural areas. In cities there was a 13 per cent decrease, rural state highways 11 per cent increase, county highways 8 per cent increase. In comparing the sixth with the first month of the war, however, city decrease was 45 per cent with a 38 per cent normal, rural state highways 74 per cent normal, and county roads 64 per cent normal with a 42 per cent normal.

Types reflect times
Types of accidents in which there are fatalities also tend to show the pulse of the nation. Pedestrian, railroad and fixed object auto deaths dropped two and three times faster than is normal in comparing May with December.

Most direct result of slower speeds and lack of tires is the 77 per cent drop in non-collision types (normally a 15 per cent drop). In addition, bicycle fatalities are rising, as may be expected.

CAR TIPS OVER WHILE AVOIDING CRASH WITH TRUCK

A car driven by Max Merriam of Chicago, tipped over in the ditch along rte. 72, near State rd., Sunday morning when he avoided a collision with a picnic truck.

Merriam was driving west on Higgins when the truck started a left turn. Merriam swerved, went into the ditch, and tipped over. Jasper Toccoio of Chicago asserted that he had signalled for the turn.

Chicagoan killed by train at Des Plaines crossing

James Dufficy of Chicago was fatally injured Wednesday of last week when he was struck by a local train pulling in Des Plaines station. An inquest termed the death accidental.

Dufficy had crossed the tracks just after a westbound local had pulled from the station, evidently failing to see the other train. Numerous people shouted to him as he started to cross the tracks but the incoming engine, traveling at a low speed, struck him.

Fatal injuries received were fractured skull, multiple broken ribs, and internal injuries.

Comm. Wm. Busse to be honored guest

County Commissioner William Busse of Mt. Prospect will be honored at a meeting of the Palatine Fire department Sunday afternoon, July 26, he having long been a friend of this organization. Later that afternoon he will attend a picnic at Northwestern Park near Des Plaines. He is beginning his race for president of the Cook county board on the Republican ticket, he having served on the board for 40 years.

TWO INJURED IN COLLISION OF CARS AT 83, LANDMEIER RD.

Two persons were injured Monday afternoon in a collision at the junction of rts. 83 and Landmeier rd., both of them Chicagoans.

T. K. Hays, Chicago, had been driving east on Landmeier rd. and had slowed for the junction. Henry Farrington, Chicago, was moving north on 83 and was struck by the Hays auto. The Farrington car was tipped over.

Both Farrington and his passenger, Mrs. Bertha Brotzman, received cuts and bruises.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Of the Selection, Approval and the Proposed Confirmation and Appointment of Judges and Clerks of Election

STATE OF ILLINOIS
COUNTY OF COOK

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN by the Board of County Commissioners of Cook County that on June 30, 1942, it selected and approved the persons whose names are listed for service in the districts or precincts opposite said names for a term to expire May, 1943; and pursuant to law, on July 8, 1942, applied to the Hon. Edmund K. Jarecki, Judge of the County Court of Cook County, for confirmation of same, whereupon the court on the same day entered the following Order.

STATE OF ILLINOIS
COUNTY OF COOK

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF COOK COUNTY

In re: Application of Board of County Commissioners of the County of Cook for the confirmation and appointment of Judges of Election and Clerks of Election for the various precincts and districts in Cook County which are not subject to the jurisdiction of the Board of Election Commissioners of the City of Chicago, for a term to expire May, 1943.

ORDER

THIS MATTER COMING ON TO BE HEARD, upon the petition of the Board of County Commissioners of the County of Cook:

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that cause be shown, if any exists, against the proposed confirmation and appointment of said persons selected by said Board of County Commissioners to act as Judges of Elections or Clerks of Election, as the case may be, in and for the various precincts and districts in Cook County, as designated in the petition of said Board bearing date of July 8, 1942, on or before the opening of court on Friday, August 7, A. D. 1942.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that said Board of County Commissioners shall immediately give notice of this order and of the names of such persons so selected as Judges of Election or Clerks of Election, as the case may be, and their respective residence addresses, and of the various precincts or districts for which they have been selected in the County of Cook and the political parties which they have been chosen to represent by causing the same to be published in a newspaper or newspapers in the County of Cook.

Dated: July 8, 1942.

Enter: EDMUND K. JARECKI, County Judge.

DESSERTS FOR WAR-TIME

Many women are finding that fruit marlows are the answer to their "sugarless summer dessert problem. Just marshmallows, fruit pulp and juice — and whipped cream. That's all. Simple, isn't it? Here is the recipe —

STRAWBERRY OR RASPBERRY MARLOW

1 quart berries 1 cup whipping cream (before whipping)

Press the berries through a sieve. You'll have 1 cup of sieved berry pulp and 1/4 cup juice. Blend this 1/4 cup juice with the orange juice and the marshmallows in the top of a double boiler. Place over hot water until marshmallows are completely melted — stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and stir in the cup of sieved fruit pulp. Chill. Fold in the stiffly whipped cream. Freeze in tray of automatic refrigerator. Or pack in equal parts of ice and salt and allow to freeze.

PINEAPPLE MARLOW

1/2 cup crushed pineapple, drained pineapple 20 marshmallows, quartered

Put juice from strained pineapple in top of double boiler with marshmallows and proceed as for berry marlow.

GRAPE MARLOW

1 cup grape juice 20 marshmallows, quartered

Put juices and marshmallows in top of double boiler and proceed as for berry marlow.

CHOCOLATE MARLOW

1 square unweetened chocolate, 20 marshmallows, quartered

Put chocolate, marshmallows and milk in top of double boiler and proceed as for berry marlow.

COOKIES WITH ONLY TWO TABLESPOONS OF SUGAR

A frozen dessert of this type calls for cake or cookies to complete it. So here's a recipe for some rich, buttery little cookies that call for only 2 tbs. of confectioners' sugar. They are called—

Anti-inflation sentiment in US increases

U. S. studies business subsidies; Army needs 600,000 typewriters

The Home Front

The home-front battle against inflation has been running strong competition to actual shooting in the news lately. That's fitting enough, since in many ways that battle is fully as important as even some of the major clashes at arms. For the long run it, too, is very much a "war of survival" for millions of householders, business people, owners of insurance, fixed-salary workers — in fact, for almost everyone! The populace is pitching into the scrap, too, judging from Washington reports that Congressional mail is running strongly to the urging of anti-inflation measures. In most cases communications demanding that kind of action now outnumber the complaints about tire, gasoline and sugar rationing!

Subsidies

Price Administrator Leon Henderson, apparently winning his fight for Price Control administrative funds, is going all-out for a "selective subsidy" program, to compensate civilian businesses for losses they face due to price ceilings and other war pinches. It may be one of the biggest and bitterest issues the capital has seen. An example of the program's operation is the compensation of the petroleum industry — with funds from the Defense Supplies Corporation — for the extra cost of shipping petroleum to the east coast by rail instead of by tanker. Henderson insists his "selective" subsidy program would mean subsidizing only those otherwise sound and valuable enterprises which would have to be resurrected afterward in the interests of general economic welfare — if allowed to die through war's economic strangleholds.

Expeditors

Wheat farmers in the Dakotas, cotton growers in Mississippi, junk dealers in New York and museum officials in Chicago — all have recently come in contact with expeditors. What is an expeditor? He is a combined lawyer, engineer, salesman, and, in a way, genius. His job is to speed production by any method possible. The Glenn L. Martin company has in its Cleveland office more than 100 expeditors who arrange sub-contracts, obtain priorities, find raw materials and machine tools, and in general speed plane outputs. The Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company is using many expeditors to help beat production schedules on equipment ranging from medium tanks to airplane wings and artillery shells. One expeditor turned up a milling machine in a museum and convinced the curator that the machine would be more useful on a production line. Another uncovered a drill press in a second-hand shop; another dug out a lathe in the cellar of a wealthy banker whose hobby was metal making. Farmers have found expeditors to be ready buyers of usable equipment.

Post-war cars

What with gas-rationing and thinning tires, we don't do any more automobile now than we have to, but there's no law against trying to visualize what we may drive after the war. In the current issue of the Journal of the Society of Automotive Engineers, Frank Jardine, engineer of the Aluminum Company of America, predicts that the car of the future will look much like the 1942 car, but will use lightweight materials that will weigh up to 1,000 pounds less than today's car, he said, and it will be better streamlined, smaller, more efficient, lighter. It will probably be long enough to ride well, wide enough to carry three people in the front seat and have almost as good performance as the present day car in lighter materials and much more economical fuel consumption.

Gas price to drop

Department store sales on a national basis took an unexpected bounce for the better in the week ending July 11, up to 10 percent over the same week of 1941. The gasoline price was 21.36 per gallon on July 1, highest since November of 1929 — but was almost sure to recede markedly because the subsidization of petroleum companies' extra costs took the drops from under the recent 2.5-cent rise in the ceiling. Carnegie-Illinois is "mining" steel at two points in Pennsylvania, huge slag dumps containing many thousands of tons of ladle-bottom slag and spilling thrown away in days when raw materials were more plentiful. Federal Reserve Board says war goods now are almost exactly half the total industrial production of the nation. Unemployment in May was at a new record low of 2,500,000 — a tribute to the speed of the industry's conversion job.

Make your tires

1. Take 1.7 bushels (102 pounds) of grain and convert it into 4.2 gallons of alcohol. This will make 9.4 pounds of butadiene. This butadiene when mixed with 2.4 pounds of styrene will produce 12 pounds of Buna rubber, enough for one medium sized tire.

2. 3.6 gallons of butane derived from natural gasoline will produce 2.7 gallons of butylene which in turn can be converted into 9.6 pounds of butadiene. Mixed with 2.4 pounds of styrene as above will give 12 pounds of Buna rubber.

3. 2.7 gallons of butylene derived from the oil cracking process will yield 9.6 pounds of butadiene to be mixed with 2.4 pounds of styrene which will produce 12 pounds of Buna rubber.

4. 41 pounds of coal can be converted into 1 pound of coke. This coke when mixed with 80 pounds of limestone will produce 16.3 pounds of acetylene. This in turn produces 9.6 pounds of butadiene which can be mixed with 2.4 pounds of styrene to produce 12 pounds of Buna rubber.

Typewriters

The Army and Navy has asked American business for 600,000 used typewriters. This war is fought as much with typewriters as with guns. It's means of communication — of swift and legible communication. Typewriters go up to the front with advanced units, typewriters record the streams of communication flowing in and out of the radio rooms of fleet flagships, typewriters speed guns and planes to the front from the day contract is signed until the day an order sends gun or plane into action. Your typewriter probably can do a better job of safeguarding your files right now by working for the armed forces than by staying in the office.

Tank trucks

Mileage and deliveries of truckers carrying gasoline, fuel oil, milk and other fluid commodities must be reduced by July 31, it was announced last week by the Office of Defense Transportation. ODT order No. 6 previously had set July 15 as the effective date of a 25 percent mileage reduction and a limit of one daily delivery to any single address.

Scraps

Add to the long list of things we aren't making any more for the duration, garden tools, hospital equipment, merry-go-rounds, magic lanterns, umbrella shafts, and vanity cases. Hot weather note — cigarettes, cigars and smoking tobacco may be wrapped in Christmas packages as usual this year. This year of the kitchen fat contains enough glycerine to make the explosives which would fire four anti-aircraft shells. Housewives are urged to get in the Waste Fats campaign. Are you a Salvage Sally? Office of Price Administration discloses that we're eating up our sugar at a rate only slightly below our combined rate of production and rate of importation.

Birth certificates

War Manpower Chairman McNutt reported approximately 12,500,000 persons were working in direct war employment on July 1, compared with 9,000,000 on April 1. He estimated 5,000,000 more will be added to the industry forces during the last six months of this year. Federal Works Administrator Fleming said total U. S. employment increased between May and June by 1,700,000 persons to 53,300,000.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing the Census Bureau to issue birth certificates based on its vital statistics to persons unable to obtain them through normal channels. The 54,000,000 persons in the country whose births are not recorded could obtain a certificate upon making a sworn application to a postmaster (or his subordinate), which would be forwarded to the

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Mary:

Thanks for the snapshots of you . . . they're splendid . . . I'm glad to have them to look at once in a while . . . we see each other so seldom these days that it's a great satisfaction for me to be able to look at your cheery image . . . I'm enclosing an enlarged sketch that I've made of you and the strawberry patch . . . I can't do you justice, but I think the boys will like a drawing of their mother done by "Aunt Eleanor" regardless of how amateurish my efforts may be.

What did you guys do on the Fourth? . . . Dave and Davy and I marched in a parade . . . you see, Dave is now a Zone Captain in the OGD . . . Mr. Walters is our new block captain and Dave has a section of blocks to look after . . . beyond that I'm afraid my knowledge of a zone captain's duties are a bit vague . . . however one of the block captains in Dave's zone decided to have a parade composed of the people in his block . . . he is a Mr. Mathias A. Meyer Jr. . . a most enthusiastic and capable organizer . . . so Dave wanted to go to see it to show his appreciation and cooperation . . . Davy and I wanted to go for the same reasons, but I was particularly interested because this block is the heart of Chicago's Luxemburg population . . . it's the one on Ridge ave., opposite the Angel Guardian Orphanage.

Ever since we've moved to Shady Rest, we've been hearing interesting little scraps of news concerning the Luxemburgers . . . before coming here, I'd heard and read so little about Luxemburg, that it's always been associated in my mind with Graustark . . . imagine a country as small as that having a representation here in our middle west.

When we arrived at the corner where the parade was to start, we were amazed at the number of people who were gathered there . . . Dave estimated that ninety percent of the people living in the block had shown up . . . there was a real sailor boy at the head carrying a big flag . . . there was a group of small boys dressed in everything from their play soldier and cowboy suits to boy scout uniforms . . . there were little girls in every sort of red, white and blue costumes and one very small red cross nurse . . . in back of them followed the fathers and mothers and the grandparents . . . every one wore something to show his patriotism . . . one old gentleman caught my fancy immediately . . . along with his every day clothes, he wore a huge Mexican sombrero . . . I'm still wondering what connection this had with the Fourth of July . . . Mr. Parlee, the commander of our community was there and a legionnaire from the last war . . . we were greeted cordially by Mr. Meyer and given flags to carry when we said we'd

I thought at first they must mean just Dave and continued on . . . but they insisted that Davy and I come too . . . so we walked proudly beside Daddy in the front row.

The official occasion for the parade was the dedication of three very handsomely made bulletin boards which had been set up at intervals around the block . . . we stopped at each one where one of the boy scouts played his bugle and then a tiny boy or girl was selected by Mr. Meyer to tear the paper from a wooden case . . . lastly the board with its notices was placed in a wooden case with a glass door on it . . . the list of boys in the service of our country from this block was given the most prominent place on the board . . . and well it might for it was quite impressive . . . our one man band (the boy scout bugler) played the one tune he knew, "From the Halls of Montezuma" all around the block.

We ended by marching into the parish hall . . . there they invited Dave up to the speaker's platform and Davy and I were left alone with the young sailor . . . imagine my condition when this happened . . . I was so nervous for Dave that I couldn't look at him . . . he had warned me before we left that it might happen but this didn't help me any when it did . . . I had told him that if he started off with a joke about Pat and Mike or quoted from Lincoln's Gettysburg Address or Washington's Farewell Address, I'd simply walk out on him . . . when he was called upon, he announced that he'd have to be very brief because I was in the audience and then told them of my threat and after the laughs, he gave a very good short speech, I thought . . . or do you suppose I could possibly be a bit prejudiced?

After it was all over, I had time to ask Mr. Meyer all the questions I wanted about this settlement . . . it seems they've been here many years . . . before Rogers Park was even a village much less taken into the city . . . the land was all truck farms and green houses . . . the orphanage church was originally their church . . . the old cemetery beside it is filled with very old tombstones covered with Luxemburg names . . . the Ridge Inn (where we so enjoy eating), two blocks north of the church was one hundred years old several years ago . . . one family by the name of Schreiber owned land all the way to the lake . . . Mrs. Meyer's maiden name was Eischen . . . her family still owns the store on Devon ave., where much of the produce grown by these people was sold . . . her eighty five year old mother marched in the parade with us waving

Hog Killing Day to be Revived this Fall

Farmers to assemble for butchering

Revival of butchering day, when farm neighbors help each other prepare their meat supply, is expected this fall for three reasons, according to Sleetor Bull, chief of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. It will be cheaper, transportation and packing plants will be relieved of some of the record pig crop, and since farm people won't be going many places anyway, this will be another way for them to be good neighbors.

A family of five should have 675 pounds of meat a year for proper nutrition. This is provided by three 225-pound hogs and half of a 1,000-pound steer.

Nearly $19 is saved on the meat from three hogs when it is butchered at home, Bull estimated.

He figures that a 225-pound hog is worth about 14 cents a pound on the farm, or $31.50. This hog will cut out about 113 pounds of meat and 32 pounds of rendered lard which, at the butcher shop, will cost $42.79. Thus on one hog farmers can save $11.29, or $33.87 on three hogs. This of course does not consider any cost for processing or locker rent. Deducting $10 for processing and $5 for locker rent, at $10 a year, leaves a net saving of $18.87 by killing three hogs at home.

A side of beef from a 1,000-pound steer butchered at home and stored in the locker plant would save $13.57, making a total of $32.44 counting the saving on the three hogs. However, Bull emphasizes that this is not all the saving. If the farmer sells the hogs and the equivalent of the half steer, he would have increased his income $159.50, on which most farmers this year will pay $20 to $30 income tax. In Illinois he also will pay a sales tax on the purchased meat, which would be about $4. Thus his total saving on his year's meat bill would be $75.81 enough to buy a $100 War Bond. In addition, his family is assured of a supply of healthful meat of high quality and is releasing trucks, freight cars, machinery and labor for other war purposes.

How to capture fifth columnists in the henhouse

Hens are either cooperating in the food-for-freedom program by laying their share or they're not cooperating. Two simple guides for culling out the non-cooperators are suggested by H. H. Alp, extension poultry specialist of the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture.

The layers usually have a waxy, full, red comb, bright eyes, dry frayed feathers and bleached legs. The non-layers, on the other hand, have a shriveled, small comb, dull, shiftless eyes, clean, loose feathers, and unbleached legs.

"Even if this were not an emergency, it would pay to cull weekly," Alp said, "and it's easy to look them in the face and check their make-up."

"Divide the flock into two groups, birds in production and birds not in production. Sell the birds not producing and feed well those which are still laying," he advised.

Further information about culling the flock for more efficient food-for-freedom production may be obtained from county farm advisers and the university.

'Wimpy' changes from hamburger diet to chicken

Chicken and plenty of it will be sold across the counters to American housewives during the period of July 16 through July 25 in another victory food display.

Broilers and fryers reaching the market in abundance the latter half of July can be one answer to the dilemma of keeping within the meat budget while still offering the family attractive meals, reports Miss Francis Cook, extension specialist in foods, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. The promotion of victory foods by the Agricultural Marketing Administration is designed to make full use of the nation's food and to prevent waste of any food that is abundant.

Just now broilers and fryers are abundant because farmers kept their word to step up poultry production. They did the job so well that during the first four months of this year 19 per cent more baby chicks were hatched in the United States than during the same period in 1941. In the Midwest the gain was 34 per cent more chicks this year than last. As a result, chicken isn't a Sunday food any longer but an asset to everyday meals.

Southern housewives have their rules for frying chicken, and New England homemakers likewise follow traditional methods, but for good fried chicken, midwestern style, there's nothing like chicken dipped in seasoned flour and "done to a turn" in a golden brown fat, possibly with some of the abundant midwestern butter contributing flavor to the meat.

A 2½ to 3½ pound young chicken will be enough to serve four people. Cut up into pieces for individual serving, it is at its best, juicy and tender, if it comes directly out of the refrigerator and goes into the frying pan. The method is to prepare the flour-seasoning mixture and put it into a large sack, then shake the pieces of chicken in the sack, a few at a time. The result is floured chicken without fuss.

The big pieces of chicken are slid into the center of the heavy frying pan which contains ½ inch fat, hot but not smoking. Smaller pieces of chicken are fitted in around the outside. Then the cover is placed on the pan and the temperature stepped up for the first few minutes so that the chicken browns on the outside. As one side is browned, the meat needs to be turned over. Then the temperature is reduced to a moderate level and the meat fried for 25 or 30 minutes.

Bee Keepers picnic Sunday

Cook and DuPage county beekeepers will be interested in the annual picnic to be held this year at the Wm. Wallanches' apiary on Main street, 3 miles south of Downers Grove, Illinois, and 1½ miles north of highway 66 on the Lemont road, Sunday, July 26.

Bring your baskets for 12:30 dinner. This is the bee man's year with sugar rationing.

Truck gardeners picnic August 1

The Cook County Truck Gardeners and Farmers Association, Local No. 7, will hold their annual picnic Saturday night, August 1, at Ehrhardt's Grove on Talcott rd. at 7:30 p. m. Good music will be furnished.

To assure a constant flow of electric power for war industries next winter, Public Service Company of Northern Illinois has increased its stock pile of coal to an amount sufficient to run its big

Waukegan generating station at top capacity for 120 days. As a major contribution to the government's "buy coal now" drive, the company has increased coal reserves at its generating stations to an all-time high of 350,300 tons which will protect continuity of electric service to a large area of northern Illinois and release hundreds of railroad cars for war traffic should transportation pinch develop next winter.

4,500 farm hands to be killed this year

Unless soldiers on the farm front are careful, an army of nearly 4,500 farm workers will be killed this year by mechanized equipment and livestock.

That's why we say that heroism isn't confined to the front battle lines in this war," farm families were told today by E. W. Lehmann, head of the agricultural engineering department, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. The shortage of labor, inexperienced machine operators and use of older machinery will aggravate the situation for the duration. In Illinois alone, nearly 300 farmers lost their lives in producing and delivering food to market in 1941. Thousands were crippled for life; more thousands were crippled temporarily.

Lehmann, who is chairman of the College of Agriculture's accident and fire prevention committee, says that accidents during wartime are not merely family and community tragedies. Many times they are the result of criminal negligence. Accidents that kill and injure American food-for-freedom products aid the enemies.

Realizing this, thoughtful farm workers will find that they can't afford to indulge in careless work habits. By eliminating farming hazards, the industry can eliminate its record of killing more people than any other occupation in the country.

The prevention of farm accidents is one of the precautions being stressed among every farm family in Illinois in a campaign under the direction of the extension service of the College of Agriculture. Farm families are reached with vital information through county farm and home advisers, township chairmen and school district leaders.

Animal diseases being cured in state-wide plan

Unseen enemies — diseases of animals producing food for freedom — are being attacked just as ruthlessly as the disease attacks the animals, in a state-wide disease eradication program. Co-operating in the program are veterinarians and animal pathologists of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

One of the most destructive diseases in Illinois is hog cholera and this is receiving special attention by the pathologists. Systematic inoculation of healthy pigs with anti-hog cholera serum and virus is recommended. Hog cholera, including crystal violet vaccine and BT, may be used to advantage on certain farms. Both of these vaccines have the advantage of not causing hog cholera. Three weeks are required for the immunity to develop, and it expires in approximately eight months.

Other diseases being attacked throughout the state include necrosis, fowl pox, swine erysipelas, brucellosis in swine and cattle and bovine mastitis.

"In the control of animal diseases, there are still no substitutes for good management practices, according to the college's animal pathologists. "If the management practices fail, a correct diagnosis should be promptly obtained and suitable treatment used. Diagnosis and treatment are the responsibility of the local veterinarian."

Berwyn girl is state winner in poster contest

Here is Lillian Jean Nosko of Berwyn who has just been named state champion for Illinois in a national poster contest in which 12,820 high school students from 41 states competed. The theme of this event was Meat and Victory, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board, contest sponsor. Miss Nosko's poster won the high honor on the basis of originality, grasp of the subject and method of presentation in the opinion of the judging committee.

Holstein group picnic Saturday

Illinois Holstein cattle breeders are planning on the largest and finest state show of the season to be held at Mooseheart on Saturday, July 25. Purebred Holsteins from the finest herds in the state will be on display and will be judged by the internationally famous cattle expert, Joe P. Eves of Chicago. In view of the fact that there will be no State Fair in Illinois this year, All-American nominations will be made at the Mooseheart show. Several entries competing have already won All-American honors.

Junior Showmanship
The show starts at 10 a. m. with a State Junior Showmanship contest. Girls and boys who have already won in local contests will fight it out for state honors. The Illinois Holstein Association will award gold watches and medals to the winners.

Most of those who attend the State Holstein show will bring their own well filled picnic baskets to enjoy the picnic dinner on the shores of the beautiful wooded lake on the Mooseheart grounds. For those who do not bring lunches the Kane County Rural Youth Club will serve sandwiches, drinks and dessert. There will be free milk for everyone.

A short speaking program will follow the picnic dinner headed by an address by State Senator Arthur Benson. W. J. Leinweber, superintendent of Mooseheart, will welcome the guests and Leslie H. Geddes of Rockford, president of the Illinois Holstein Association will make the response.

Red Cross Calves
Several Holstein breeders have donated registered Holstein heifer and bull calves to the Red Cross. These will be auctioned off at the show and the entire proceeds turned over to the Red Cross.

Dozens of attendance prizes will be given away. Merchants in the adjoining territory have donated much useful merchandise to be used as attendance prizes. There will be many prizes awarded to the winners in the amateur judging contests for juniors and adults. Here's a chance to try your skill in picking the winners.

Mooseheart is located on the west side of Fox River between Batavia and Aurora on State route 31.

No more cold pack in canning green string beans, is the warning coming from home economists at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture as Illinois home-makers launch their canning operations for vegetables.

Hot pack of green beans is the preferred method because less time is required for the heat of the pressure cooker to penetrate to the center of the jar, food specialists point out. This rapid penetration of heat is important because thermophilic, or heat-loving, bacteria, which cause flat soup, develop rapidly at intermediate temperatures.

First rule in canning string beans is to pick only the amount which can be processed at one time. If the beans are left in pan or garden basket for any length of time, their food value not only decreases, but the danger of food spoilage increases.

Second step is to wash the beans thoroughly, since the prime essentials in canning is to destroy all possible bacteria. Following this preliminary precaution, the beans are covered with boiling water and brought to the boiling point. Packed with the same water in which they were cooked, one-half inch head space is left at the top of glass jars, one-fourth inch space in tin cans, in order to insure proper sealing of the lid. One teaspoon of salt is added to each quart. Then the glass jars are partially sealed, the tin cans completely sealed and the pressure cooker process started immediately.

String beans, like other nonacid vegetables, often contain spoilage organisms, known as spores, which can not be killed by the ordinary boiling temperature. That is why the pressure cooker, which can raise heat much higher than the boiling point of water, is absolutely necessary in the canning of string beans. Unless these spores are destroyed with temperatures above the boiling point of water, they will form a poison which has, in some cases, proved fatal to persons who have eaten the canned beans. A rule for safety is to boil thoroughly all non-acid home-canned foods before they are even tasted, unless they have been subjected to adequate processing in a pressure cooker.

Pressure cooker canning, if correctly done, is a safe and reliable way to process string beans. Home-makers should have little worry about the food canned, the authorities said. The pressure and time suggested for string beans is 10 pounds pressure for 30 minutes for No. 2 tin cans, 35 minutes for pint glass jars and No. 3 tins, and 40 minutes for quart glass jars. Ten pounds pressure is equivalent to 240 degrees Fahrenheit, or 28 degrees above the boiling point of water. Following processing, the glass jars should be completely sealed and set in a cool place where the air can circulate freely around them. Tin cans should be plunged immediately into cold water. Then the canned products should be stored in a cool place.

Since the pressure cooker is so important in the successful canning of string beans, neighbors should share this piece of equipment, home economists recommended.

$80,000 classic at Arlington Sat.

by T. C. HART

The greatest race meeting in the history of Arlington Park goes into high gear this week as the peak event of the meeting, the $80,000 Arlington classic comes up for decision on Saturday.

The classic is the high spot in Arlington racing but this year there have been so many high spots that classic day will really have to be something to top some of the other days.

The classic will bring together the cream of the nation's three-year olds with a probably renewal of the feud between the great Al-sab and the equally great Shut Out.

And besides these two great colts there will be others that will face the starter and go after that pots of gold.

And as the classic has the reputation of being a race of upsets many an owner will take a chance on his horse hoping that he'll hit the top of his farm on classic day and come home in front of the "big shots."

The classic has been notably a race of upsets since its beginning and many an aspiring champion has met his Waterloo in the Arlington classic.

Even the mighty "Whirly" met defeat in last year's running of the event.

So with the classic the kind of a race it is and with all the great three-year olds in action and with the chance of a big upset ever present the 1942 classic is bound to bring a record crowd to Arlington Park for one of the greatest days in the track's history. Last week-end saw another great turn out of race fans to witness the running of the 13th Arlington futurity which was won by Occupation from the popular John Marsh stable of Chicago.

Occupation ran away from his field and not only made the fastest time in the history of the event but also dragged down the biggest purse in the history of the futurity.

The entire week was complete with fine racing and fine crowds and this week with the classic as the big drawing card another record week is sure to be written into the record books of Arlington Park.

And for the final days racing on Saturday, August 1, everyone and his cousin will want to be on hand to see the mighty Whirlaway, money winning king of them all perform in the Arlington handicap but that's a whole week away and this Saturday there's enough to think about in the great classic stakes.

Arlington nine splits doubleheader

The Red Wings played two games last Sunday. In the morning against Edison Park Arlington won by a score of 1-0. Sammy Amato pitched a fine game and held Edison Park to one hit, this coming in the last inning. Art Schiewe singled in the deciding tally for the locals.

In the afternoon the boys traveled to Waukegan and were nosed out by the Johnson Motors, 5-4. The bright spots of this game were the hitting of the Red Wings. The boys hit hard and often and were paced by a home run off the bat of Bob Sewski in the ninth with no one on base. George Schaefer got two hits and pitched his usual good game. Keep up the good work boys.

Next Sunday the Red Wings play the West Towns and it should be a good game.

Batteries morning game:

Red Wings: Amato, Schiewe—Winkelman

Edison Park: Bush, Jorgens

Batteries afternoon game:

Red Wings: Schaefer, Schiewe

Johnson Motors: Bulley, Stanczak

Park Ridge polo team to play Jay farm Sunday

Del Townsend and his Park Ridge poloists will face their crucial test of the season this fall when they oppose the Jay Farm team from Milwaukee on the field at River road and Devon avenue Sunday afternoon.

Jay Farm will be the second Milwaukee team to invade this area, and Park Ridge is anxious to atone for the hard fought 5 to 4 decision last week-end ago to the Meadowbrook Club from the Wisconsin metropolis.

Captained by Fred Lange, the visitors will line up Sunday also with Elmer Kirsch, Eddie Roddy, and Claude Mackey, a combination that has rolled up a remarkable victory record. Mackey is a great favorite with local fans as a Park Ridge star, but an agreement with Allan Tidball, owner of the Jay Farm team, made several months ago requires that he play with the Milwaukee outfit, even if it means riding against his own Park Ridge team mates.

Townsend has named George Biddle and Julius Lencione to share the No. 2 position with Park Ridge. Townsend will be at the No. 1 post to lead the attack. Candidates for the other berths on the team include Billy Mayer, Fred Gloor, Rudy Maslek, and Buster Mackey, son of Claude. The lineup will be completed after the final pre-game practice scrimmage.

Starting time for Sunday's contest will be 3:30 p. m.

Army relief to benefit in Arlington game

The Camp Grant baseball squad will pay Arlington Heights a visit August 1st, when they engage the local Red Wings.

The proceeds of this game will go to the Army Emergency Relief with tickets selling for fifty cents.

Game time 3:30 p. m. Saturday, August 1st, at Recreation Park.

The Camp Grant boys are all former major and minor league stars and baseball fans in this vicinity should avail themselves of this opportunity to see some of their favorites in action.

Get your tickets early and often. Remember to "Keep 'Em Smiling" by donating to the Army Emergency Relief.

If we can put this benefit game over we will have the Great Lakes team here in September. Let's all get behind this game and show the country we are helping win the war by contributing to the Army Relief.

Enter this one in your scrap book under the heading of "The Freak Golf Shot of the Year." Joseph B. White, Jr., of Itasca, playing in an Industrial Golf Leagues of America match last Sunday at Mt. Prospect Country Club, hit his 7-iron tee shot onto the 155-yard 3 par 12th hole, forty feet from the pin. Opponent Vito Surico of Chicago, ace of the Liquid Carbonic quartet and an Illinois State Junior finalist a few years back, fired away with a shot that looked to be the shot of the foursome. Headed towards the front of the green, the ball, however, hit White's pellet on the fly, stopping dead, but sending White's ball scooting up the green to within 15 feet of the hole. Taking advantage of the break, White dropped his putt for a birdie, deuce and a win of the hole. Surico needed two putts.

Hitting another player's ball on the green from off the tee happens but once in a lifetime. Such a shot is more rare than a hole-in-one. A moral can be gained: Don't give up even though you have already played your ball. Your opponent may knock an ace in for you. The Heller-Delta industrial links team composed of Joseph B. White, Jr., of Itasca, and brothers, Nick, George and correspondent, Tommy Kouzmanoff, shot an aggregate of 315 in Sunday's match at Mt. Prospect to score a 7-5 win. Six foot-four Nick was low with a 75, White fired a 78, George a 79, and your golf editor an 83... Mo-
